THE VOYAGE UP THE POTOMAC.

WASHINGTON, Monday, May 14.

After closing my dispatch of yesterday, the Japanese, or as they style themselves, the "Niponese," were invited to partake of a sumptuous dinner given in the saloon of the Philadelphia, Capt. DUPONT doing the honors of the table, with the First Ambassador and Adviser on his right, and the Second Ambassador and Treasurer on his left. The other Japanese officers occupied a separate table.

The Army officers from Fort Monroe occupied a third table, and invited guests sat at a fourth, all in the same saloon.

Capt. GARDNER, of the Roanoke, Col. DIMMICK, Commander at Fort Monroe, Capt. LEE, Hon. H. WINTER DAVIS, and several others, occupied seats with Capt. DUPONT and the Ambassadors.

The display of fancy confectionery and choice flowers on the table delighted our distinguished visitors, and they ate everything presented them, except meats, using their knives and forks with much ease. Their manner during the various courses at table, was entirely easy, and they evidently enjoyed themselves as much as those more accustomed to such ceremonies. Not the slightest embarrassment was perceptible, nor the least awkwardness.

Rising from the table, the Ambassadors bowed their thanks to Capt. DUPONT for his elegant entertainment, and returned to the upper saloon, where they engaged in smoking and free social conversation; exhibiting no disposition for exclusiveness, but a desire to be on easy terms with all.

On pushing off from the Roanoke, the command was given to man the yards of that splendid ship. This delighted the Japanese, who came on deck to witness it, while the big guns of the Roanoke thundered a salute,—followed by music on both steamers; the whole presenting an animated, exciting and picturesque appearance.

The Ambassadors accepted an invitation to visit Fort Monroe, and land there for the first time on the Atlantic side of the continent. They commented freely on the fortifications, and inquired particularly as to their strength, the calibre of the guns, &c., and their artists sketched every object of interest. The officers furnished a handsome collation at the Hygeia Hotel, when we again embarked for the Capital.

During the trip up, nothing escaped observation, nor did the Ambassadors or any of their suite hesitate to inquire about everything; while the answers were carefully noted in their journals. Every man in the Embassy keeps a journal, carrying in the bosom of his shirt a pencil, and an ink-horn sticking in his belt.

The official artist of the Embassy has sketched almost the entire banks of the Potomac, up to this point.

Passing Mount Vernon, they all went on deck, and from the sad expression of their countenances seemed fully to appreciate the scene.

At Alexandria, and other points, the people crowded the wharves and cheered vociferously, which was highly pleasing to the Japanese. On approaching the Washington Arsenal and Navy-yard, batteries of cannon announced the long expected arrival of the nation's guests. Q.

THE EMBASSY AT WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Monday, May 14.

During the passage up the Potomac the Embassy evinced the liveliest interest on being informed that they were approaching the National Capital. As they neared the city they eagerly inquired the names and purposes of various prominent buildings, and their books and pencils were continually busy. Some of them drew neat sketches of the scenery on their fans, and all displayed most intelligent attention to whatever was communicated. They frequently expressed their appreciation of the reception thus far as eminently satisfactory.

If ISAGI KOODA and KWANSUCHI MANGI could only have effected their escape with Commodore PERRY and have witnessed the cordial welcome given at the Capital of the United States to-day to their countrymen, what would have been their astonishment and delight! Washington was all agog with the excitement at an early hour,—military uniforms, carriages hurrying hither and thither; stages crowded to excess; and the jubilant population in holiday attire set in a powerful current towards the Navy-yard, that soon increased to a flood-tide at that locality. In the Navy-yard itself the scene was a busy one. The entrance was almost blocked by the crowd unable to gain admittance, while every point of the numerous buildings in the Yard in sight was occupied by favored ones, who could procure the friendly pass of an officer. Up to 10 o'clock the workmen were busily engaged in building a plank-walk from the wharf to the point fixed for carriages to receive the guests. The crowd continued to pour in faster and faster, most agreeably and picturesquely diversified by a large proportion of ladies, the gaiety of whose various wardrobes added greatly to the brilliancy of the scene.

Not the least remarkable feature of the occasion was the presence of a small army of artists for illustrated papers, and daguerreotypists, mainly from New-York, prepared to do up the Japanese, like oysters, in every style. So we shall have pictures of Japanese on their way up the river, Japanese walking the gang-plank, Japanese being received, Japanese whispering their reply, Japanese walking a white-washed plank to their carriages, and Japanese, in short, in every possible posture, done up at wholesale, at six cents a batch. If some of the pictures do not superinduce a general "hari kari" among the Embassy—a complete suicidal disembowelment of the entire delegation—we can assure ourselves of their ability to withstand almost any infliction. Much surprise was evinced that one of the daguerreotypists was afforded excellent facilities near the point of debarkation. This was, however, explained by the fact that the knight of the camera had obtained permission from "J. B.," at the request of "J. G. B.," who applied for the Mission to France, and compromised on this favor—like the politician who wanted a seat in the Cabinet, and had to be contented with a suit of old clothes.

Shortly after 11 o'clock the expectant multitude were startled by the booming of cannon, and that instant the steamer Philadelphia, with the Japanese Embassy on board, hove in sight. The brilliant scene in the Navy-yard—the interest centered in both the bustling preparations of the military, and the music of the Navy-yard Band—made the occasion at this moment peculiarly attractive. A considerable time was wasted in preparing for the landing—more in the act of landing, more in ceremonies of reception, more in getting to the carriages, more in passing to the hotel, and still more in getting to their rooms. In fact, from beginning to end, the reception was characterized by great delay.

As soon as the Philadelphia neared the wharf, the Japanese could be seen scattered about the deck, evincing evident interest in the proceedings. Some were sketching, others looking through spy-glasses at the far-extending crowd, and others peering about curiously at the busy movements of everybody. Some said the delay in disembarkation was on account of the preparations of the Ambassadors themselves; some said it was to afford the sketchers time. The crowd under the broiling sun, however, seemed to think it no joke at all. At length the band marched ashore, and stopped, playing the "Star Spangled Banner;" the plank was fully arranged; the persistent applicants for admission to the steamer were turned back in the crowd. Commodore BUCHANAN and his officers ranged themselves in position for the reception, and a general stir seemed to indicate that the Ambassadors were coming. But instead of that a black frame-work, looking like a cradle, was passed out with a long pole, then a red box and a black wood cover. Speculations immediately commenced as to the contents of the box. Did it hold presents, the treaty, or $80,000? Or was it the sedan chair for His Highness SIMME-BUJEN-NO-KAMI? Nobody knew, and soon the general interest was diverted to the presence of the all-important dignitaries of the occasion. There they were, in all the glory of Japanese costume and Japanese tout ensemble. First, as the salute of 17 guns boomed out, came SIMME-BUJEN-NO-KAMI, accompanied by Capt. DUPONT, and after them came MURAGAGE-AWAGE-NO-KAMI, OGURE BUNGO-NO-KAMI, and MORITA-O-KTARO, accompanied by Commander LEE, Lieut. PORTER and Mr. LEDYARD. The minor officials of the Embassy, in company with other Naval officers, brought up the rear. This was the signal for a general rush to the spot, and the police were utterly unable to keep back the crowd. An effort had been made to keep a hollow square for the reception ceremonies, but it signally failed. The facilities extended to reporters at first consisted in being allowed to stand in front of the police, but soon a dozen impromptu reporters, bogus, of course, presented pencils, and were admitted, until finally all attempts to keep the crowd back seemed to be useless.

At the moment of the formal welcome, the American and Japanese officers were alike hemmed in by an inquisitive crowd, peering over their shoulders, poking their ears and noses as far forward as they could, and making themselves quite obnoxious, to the evident disgust of both Japanese and Americans. After brief speeches, when the Ambassadors were being escorted to their carriages, and were about two hundred yards distant from them, the crowd made a frantic rush to accompany them, and amid the pushing, squeezing, and muss generally, it is a wonder how the poor Japanese escaped with their lives. The whole scene must have given them a vivid impression of the remarkable freedom of Republican institutions.

Military officers, members of Congress, editors, policemen, Japanese, negroes, women and children, were mixed up in an almost inextricable mass. Only through the good management of the Committee of officers could the Japanese contrive to keep within hailing distance of each other, and so great was the rush that even the battalion of marines could be of little service in preserving order. Arrived at the head of the plank walk, the question arose: Where are the carriages? After some delay here, exposing the bare pates of the Embassy to the sun, all were seated, and the cavalcade was at length formed outside the gate and started through the mud for Pennsylvania-avenue. The citizen soldiery and marines, forming a battalion of about four hundred men, were the escort, and almast as bravely as the famous Seventh Regiment, of New-York, did they wade through the thick mud. It is not at all unlikely that our Japanese friends may, as an act of charity, present the city with a fund for paving and cleaning streets.

The crowd all along the route was exceedingly great, including a large proportion of women. The men and boys were of quite an inquiring turn of mind, availing themselves of the slow progress of the procession to peer into the windows of the carriages, to "cut behind" them, and perform various other antics which, in like circumstances, at Yeddo, would have cost them their heads. The ladies, however, waved their handkerchiefs, the firemen rang their bells, a few hurrahs were given, and the crowd rushed along. Having reached WILLARD'S, the military drew up in line, the guests passed through and gained the privacy of their own apartments about two o'clock P. M., the ceremonies having occupied about two hours.

During the rest of the day and evening the vicinity of the hotel was crowded with an eager crowd, anxious for a sight of the visitors. The police were on duty to clear the halls. The Embassy will be presented to the President on Wednesday. It may not visit New-York in two or three weeks.

The Ambassadors have determined, since their arrival here, to return home by the way of Panama, and the Niagara will leave immediately on her voyage around the Horn.

The Embassy expect to remain here some two weeks before visiting the North.

The Washington package of the TIMES was bought up in a few minutes after its arrival, and thousands more could have been sold. O., JR.

WASHINGTON, Monday, May 14.

After the transfer of the light baggage, boxes of money and treaty case to the Philadelphia, the Japanese, with the exception of the Ambassadors, came on board. Shortly after all the commissioned officers from Fortress Monroe arrived, and, lastly, the yards of the Roanoke were manned, when a boat, with the Ambassadors, left the Roanoke, amid the roar of seventeen guns and music by both bands.

They were received on board the Philadelphia by Capt. DUPONT and Mr. LEDYARD, and shown their respective state-rooms.

The reception and dinner on board the Philadelphia was a superb affair.

The game, fish, fruits, vegetables, creams, jellies, wines, etc., were pronounced by the Japanese to be well suited to their appetites, of which they gave ample evidence.

The Philadelphia left the moorings of the Roanoke at 4:15 P. M. on Sunday, and landed her freight at Old Point at 4:25 P. M.

The Japanese were received with formal honors, including a salute from the battery and music by the band.

The Ambassadors were escorted around the parapet, their artists sketching outline views of almost everything inside, as well as the roads and shipping outside, with astonishing rapidity.

The officers at the Fort prepared a hasty table of refreshments at the hotel. Reëmbarked at 6 o'clock with the same honors as at the landing. The Ambassadors and attachés were delighted with everything, and nothing was omitted or lost sight of by the Naval Commissioners, guests and officers of the boat tending to satisfy their curiosity, appetites or comfort, nor did the least accident, incident or omission occur interfering with the programme of arrangements or marring the pleasure of the distinguished visitors.

The reporter wishes to acknowledge the courteous attention of the Commissioners and others, who afforded every facility required, as well as to the officers of the boat for many privileges.

To-day, at daybreak, the Philadelphia was steadily steaming up the Potomac, all on board of her delighted at the near approach to Washington. The Japanese artists took views at every point.

The Philadelphia stopped of Mount Vernon, the band played a plaintive air, while the bell was kept mournfully tolling.

The Ambassadors, through the interpreters, were informed of the history of the "Father of his Country."

The Japanese artists took accurate sketches of the mansion and the grounds around it.

All on board of the Philadelphia were highly delighted at the approaching end of their journey.

It is understood that the interpreter has succeeded in ascertaining the respective rank of all the Japan Embassy at home, and placed the result of his investigations in the hands of Mr. LEDYARD for consideration. The latter will probably have no difficulty in classing them as full Ambassadors.

At an early hour the Navy-yard was thronged with a dense multitude, including many ladies. Intense excitement was everywhere exhibited. The scene was delightful. The perspective hills and trees had been rendered additionally beautiful by the freshness of recent rains and a bright sky. Flags were flying in all directions.

At about 11½ o'clock a gun from the yard announced that the steamer was in sight, whereupon there was a wild rush to the wharf. The Philadelphia approached while the Marine band, on her upper deck, played the "Star Spangled Banner."

There was a pause of a quarter of an hour, until the arrangements could be fully matured.

Mayor BERRET then went on board, and was introduced to the Ambassadors, extending them a welcome in the name of the citizens of Washington, to which they acknowledged their thanks for the honor and the compliment.

The Japanese on the upper deck were evidently delighted. One of them was taking sketches.

An American daguerreotypist had erected his camera to take the picture.

The greatest excitement was everywhere exhibited.

The club boats on the river, with the American and Japanese flags, added to the effect of the brilliant scene.

The treaty box was first brought from the boat, and then followed the Japanese, under the escort of several naval officers. They passed as they landed between the American and Japanese flags.

Having approached to where Capt. BUCHANAN was standing, he, in the presence of his brother naval officers, welcomed them in the name of the President of the United States and the country, reciprocating the kind feelings expressed by the Japanese Government when the treaty was made by the gallant PERRY. As a humble participator on this other interesting occasion, he felt proud of being the medium of their reception on the part of his countrymen.

The dignitaries thus addressed, through the interpreter, bowed their acknowledgment.

While these ceremonies were progressing, a salute was fired from the battery.

The military, presenting a beautiful appearance, were arranged on the side of the plankway, (newly whitewashed,) on which the visitors walked to the gate, where the cortège was formed.

First, the President's Mounted Guard.

Then the Japanese in hacks.

Next the Treaty, in a large red morocco box in a square cage, was carried on the top of an omnibus.

The Marines and District Militia followed, and there was music from several bands.

The sidewalks on Pennsylvania-avenue were crowded, and the windows filled.

The intense excitement continued throughout the distance from the Navy-Yard to the quarters of the Japanese, which they reached at about 1¾ o'clock.

So dense was the crowd of pedestrians and carriages that the Japanese cortège occupied over an hour in going from the Capitol to WILLARD'S. The resident population was more excited and enthusiastic than ever before, and the whole march through the city was one perfect ovation.

The reception rooms at WILLIARD'S were densely thronged with the wives, sisters and daughters of the dignitaries of the country, who were assembled to receive these welcome visitors. Over an hour was required in the exchange of courtesies before the wearied travelers were allowed to retire to their quarters.

The crowd has now dispersed, and the military returned to their quarters.

THE JAPANESE ON BOARD THE PHILADELPHIA.

THE COMMISSION OF WELCOME—INVITED GUESTS—DEPARTURE—THE DECORATIONS, &C.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

ON BOARD THE "PHILADELPHIA,"
PORTSMOUTH, Saturday, May 12, 1860.

The magnificent little steamer, chartered and fitted up by the Government for the special purpose of conveying the Japanese Embassy up the Potomac River to the Capital of the nation, is a perfect picture in her Sunday dress of new paint, bouquets and banners, and well adapted for the purpose intended. How different from the close cases in which the American Legation were conveyed to the seat of the Imperial Government in China! A vast number of requests for permission to accompany the Philadelphia poured in on Capt. DUPONT, and he was forced from necessity to adopt a rigid rule, and exclude all except a few invited guests and a representation of the Associated Press. The officers in charge of the Embassy are Capt. DUPONT, Com. LEE, Lieut. PORTER, Dr. MCDONALD, Secretary, and Mr. PORTMAN, Interpreter. The latter gentleman was clerk and interpreter to Com. PERRY during his visit to Japan, and was subsequently in that country with Com. LEE, who then commanded the Mississippi. Mr. PORTMAN communicates with the Japanese by means of a mixed or broken Dutch language, which they readily understand.

The guests on board the Philadelphia are Commander MAGRUDER, who had charge of the shipwrecked Japanese sent to China by this Government; Hon. H. WINTER DAVIS, of Maryland; Mr LEDYARD, son-in-law of Secretary CASS; Purser CUNNINGHAM, U. S. N.; Mr. MATTINGBY, Agent of the Steamer Company; Mr. PARTRIDGE, Secretary of State for the State of Maryland; CHARLES WELCH, Esq., Chief Clerk of the Navy Department; Mr. HOGG, of the same Department; SAMUEL ARCHIBOLD, Engineer-in-Chief, U. S. N.; Capt. TAYLOR, United States Marine Corps; Mr. ZANTZINGER, Secretary to Flag-Officer MCCLUNEY, and the agents of the Associated Press.

The scene was animated as the Philadelphia left her wharf at Washington to start on her novel mission, and a thousand handkerchiefs responded to the graceful waving of numberless banners which floated over every part of the gaily decorated steamer. The celebrated Marion band was "on time," presenting a fine appearance in their new uniform, and after a delightful run we entered Hampton Roads at sunrise this morning, but the anticipated steamer, "the Roanoke," with our Japanese guests, had not arrived, and the Philadelphia steamed on to this port, leaving the steamer Anacosta anchored in the Roads with instructions to notify the Philadelphia so soon as the Roanoke should heave in sight.

The failure to meet the Roanoke created a general disappointment on board the Philadelphia, as much of her beauty must be lost by delay. The costly boquets and pyramids of flowers, which were procured at the suggestion of Lieut. PORTER, and which now ornament the saloons of the boat, must wither, besides a large amount of creams, jellies, &c., must be thrown away, as they will probably spoil in this climate.

A proposition was made this morning that the party should return and anchor in Hampton Roads, but, on ascertaining the Roanoke was still anchored below New-York at sundown on Thursday evening, with her main shaft badly cracked and a southeast gale blowing, the officers in charge determined to lie here until something was heard from the ship. The result was a scattering of the guests to visit Norfolk, the Navy-yard, the old Pennsylvania, and other points of interest.

A question of considerable interest will arise in Washington on the arrival of the Japanese Embassy, though one of etiquette. Mr. HARRIS styles them Ambassadors, but this may be but a general term; and the Washington Cabinet will aim to ascertain at this point their diplomatic grade. This is to avoid confusion among the Diplomatic Corps at Washington. Q.

PREPARATIONS AT WASHINGTON.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE RECEPTION AT WASHINGTON—THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES ADJOURNED—PREPARATIONS AND GOSSIP—HARI KARI.

Correspondence of the New-York Times:

WASHINGTON, Saturday, May 12, 1860.

Luckily, SIMME-BUJEN-NO-KAMI' and his seventy-one Japanese countrymen have not yet arrived and providentially the city has been drenched with rain to-day, for a more disreputably dirty street than Pennsylvania-avenue could scarcely have been found in New-York. Even with the rain, which the prudent City Fathers of the capital allow to do most of the street-cleaning, I am inclined to the belief that Washington will, in the eyes of the Japanese visitors, suffer from contrast with Simoda, Hakodadi and Nagasaki. Who knows but that the Japanese Embassy may, on their return home, especially after seeing New-York in the height of the reign of DELAVAN, send us some missionaries to inculcate metropolitan hygiene.

I trust they will not find the road from the Navy Yard to the Capitol such a Jordan as that which welcomed tha Seventh Regiment; but at present that locality is a sorry spectacle—an unfordable sheet of slush, to be traversed only by stages of great diameter of wheel. Nor does the Capitol itself appear more inviting, with its venerable coat of dust. I cannot help wishing that a couple of our new steam fire engines could try the force of their prodidious squirts on those begrimed buildings. I am of the opinion that not only the massive walls, and the spacious steps, but even that extraordinary idea of civilization embodied by Mr. CRAWFORD in marble, or Columbus, with a half-naked woman near him, who looks as if she were cramped with pains, or any of the other groups of statuary, would look much improved after a good washing. Nor would the appearance of the interior be much marred could some good-natured Aunt Chloe have a general "claring up time," and remove some of the superfluous rubbish, at the same time sticking a tallow candle here and there, to illumine the subterranean darkness. This latter improvement, however, would deprive the Japanese of an opportunity of realizing how completely our best architects can succeed in shutting daylight out of a building, and the vastness of the expense required to effect that desirable consummation.

Even in this locality of excitements, the population is on tiptoe of expectation, in view of the coming delegation from the Empire of the Rising Sun. They luxuriate in the prospect, of enjoying some of the $50,000 appropriated by Congress to entertain the visitors; the ladies are all on the look-out for good places to see the sights; correspondents are flocking thither, with Perry's Expedition and sketch-books under their arms; boot-blacks making investments in "Japanese polish;" landlords gloating over the prospect of full houses; politicians aching to make buncombe speeches; and the devotees of Bacchus revelling in the possible flowing of rivers of "sakee" in honor of the nation's guests, while the population generally holds its breath in the interval of suspense.

Ample preparations have been made to entertain our Japanese friends in a manner becoming the nation's duty. Having sailed in the fine new steamer Philadelphia from Old Point Comfort up the Potomac and Anacosta rivers to the Washington Navy-yard, they will be received at 12 o'clock on Monday (to-day) with a national salute, the flags of America and Japan floating amicably side by side, and a formal welcome from Commodore BUCHANAN, the commandant of the post. The speechifying being over, they will be escorted to carriages in waiting and immediately conveyed to Willard's Hotel.

The House of Representatives and the City Government have been invited to witness the debarkation and welcome, and so numerous have been the applications for admission to the yard that it is feared all cannot witness the imposing ceremonies. Certainly, the place selected for the delivery of the welcoming address—on the wharf—is too circumscribed to admit of the presence of more than a very limited number of spectators. Your correspondent has an order to be admitted "early," and felicitates himself on the prospect of waiting the reception, in the midst of a crowd, at the imminent risk of coup de soliel—should the day prove fine.

Through the politeness of the proprietor of Willard's I have had a peep at the rooms set apart for the Japanese. They are sixty in number, and comprise the entire first floor of the Hotel, with the exception of the large public parlors. For SIMME-BUJEN-NO-KAMI, the first Ambassador, a suite of three rooms—reception-room, ante-room and bedroom—is set apart furnished in a style that would defy the descriptive pen of the historian of the diamond wedding, and with the other rooms for the highest dignitaries, have been thoroughly renovated and refitted for the occasion.

The dining-room, exclusively set apart for the Japanese, measures 75 feet by 30, and has been completely refurnished with new furniture, table linen, crockery, glass and silverware, and, indeed nothing in the room has yet been used. Among the rarities of detail which I may mention are a number of artificial bouquets in confectionery, looking so natural that you can almost smell the perfume. Connecting with this dining hall a new balcony has been erected for a smoking-gallery, overlooking the fountain in the marble-paved yard, and located in a delicious shade. Here may MURAGAKE-AWAGE-NO-KAMI and his fellow officials luxuriate, while the great Ambassador retires to his private apartments. Conveniently connecting with the dining-hall are pantries and kitchens for the exclusive use of the Japanese cooks and servants, two new cooking-ranges having been put up for the occasion. Thus, the Orientals may live in as complete seclusion as if they were in Yedo itself. They can cook, eat, sleep, smoke, lounge and enjoy themselves generally without in the slightest degree interfering with the other guests of the house, or being interfered with themselves—unless they please. They have only to open their doors to be able to step into the parlors and presence of the outside barbarians, whose curiosity will no doubt draw them to the vicinity.

And even Buddha has not been forgotten, for the spacious ball-room has been set apart for their religious services. True they have no Rio-shen-zhi, or Dai-shen-zhi, or Hon-gaka-zhi, or Too-den-zhi, or Fukn-zhen-zhi, or any of the other zhi's in which the national devotion delights, but they have a room for the purpose, and, provided they import their priests and alcolytes, and procure the manufacture of the paraphernalia, including the praying machine, by some cute Yankee, they may establish a tolerably respectable Mia which will accommodate an audience of eight hundred.

Considerable disappointment was created to-day by an announcement, on the authority of a telegraphic dispatch, that the Embassy had been detained at Sandy Hook, and would not probably arrive until Tuesday. The news, however, did not arrive in time to effect the action of the House this morning. An effort was made to have the House adjourn over until Tuesday, but it failed, and the House agreed to adjourn to Monday, at 3 P. M.

As to what will be the future movements of the Japanese after they arrive, nobody can tell with any degree of certainty as yet. Capt. DUPONT, who appears to have the main control of their movements, has gone down on the Philadelphia to receive them, and probably no definite plan will be determined upon until they become domesticated. It is likely that most of the delegation will remain at Washington, and but a few of the highest dignitaries visit the Northern cities. Their movements will no doubt be much restricted by the circumlocution of official ceremonies, and the necessarily short time of their stay.

The New-York Common Council is represented here by Councilman VAN TINE, of Mohammed Pacha memory, who has been deputed to keep the New-York Committee posted on the arrangements for the visit to your City. What ham-sandwich device our City Fathers have under consideration for the edification of the Japanese, does not yet appear. Possibly they may treat them to the national aversion—the society of a tanner—and entail the general disemboweling process of the Hari-Kari. If, however, they should reverse the custom, and Hari-Kari the Aldermen, instead of themselves, they would, doubtless, secure the homage of a grateful people.

Imagine the record that those industrious knights of the quill—the Metske Devantigers, who, by the way like him of the Satanic, have twisted visual organs—will have to transmit to the Mika-do-Dairie of their nation. What an idea will be given to a Japanese gentleman of the great American nation, after jostling two weeks in a dirty hack, with a New-York Alderman, who does not avail himself of the beneficent Croton? If that will not induce Hari Kari, we may congratulate our visitors on their imperturbable stoicism. O., JR.

THE HOSPITALITIES OF NORFOLK TENDERED.

NORFOLK, Monday, May 14.

A meeting of the citizens of Norfolk was held to tender the hospitalities of the city to the Embassy. Marshal PARKS was made Chairman, and W. E. FOSTER Secretary. A delegation was appointed, and they proceeded to the steamer on the boat chartered for the occasion, and performed their mission.

THE EMBASSY IN PHILADELPHIA.

The Joint Committee of Councils to make arrangements for the reception of the Japanese Embassy, in this city, met, yesterday afternoon, and authorized Mr. MCINTYRE, a member of the Committee, who is at present in Washington, to tender the hospitalities of the city to the strangers. Arrangements are in progress to take good care of the distinguished visitors during their stay in the city, and they will be shown all the sights that will be interesting to them. A medal, commemorative of the visit, is being prepared for presentation to the embassy.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, Saturday.

AN ODE TO THE JAPANESE.

BY THE BARD THAT SANG OF HEENAN.

Oh, Japanese,
You're welcome to this shore!
We greet you as we greet the Orient breeze
Whose rustling robes have swept the perfumed seas;
You come as welcome as the earliest peas,—
Can soul of man say more?

Illustrious Pagans from the Niphon isle,
Come to our arms—we'll while away a while
In pleasant talk and chat;
Tell us in sweet communion what you think
Of all you've seen, and with a latent wink
Tell us, sub rosa, what you'll take to drink—
Sweet Pagans, tell us that!

And we'll pay half the charges of a hack
To take you to the Central Park and back,
In short, we'll put you through;
We'll trot you out, we'll take you to the Tombs,
The City Hall, the Common Council rooms,
And the Volks Garten, too.

Will have a grand procession down Broadway,
Stop in the Park to see the engines play,
And zealous little boys
Shall black your boots—they'll charge you each three cents,
But as you're guests, to share in the expense
Will swell FERNANDO'S joys.

And BARNUM then shall show his stock in trade,
Display to you the mermaid that you made—
You'll like his honest phiz.
And then perhaps he'll take you to the cage
Which holds "the living wonder of the age,"
And tell you WHAT IT IS!

But have a care of BARNUM'S promptness, since
'Tis like he'll hire a KAMI or a PRINCE
To stand upon all fours,
And advertise next day, "Admission cheap
To an amphibious monster of the deep
That comes from Niphon's shores!"

And have a care lest Peter Funk may sell
A pinchbeck watch to some Celestial swell,
To some Man-darin man;
And watch lest ticket-swindlers come anon,
And sell to every Pagan mother's son
A ticket to Japan!

Should this be done, oh! do not cross the sea
In bitter wrath and poison our Bohea;
But promise, Japanese,
That though our Common Council bore your ears,
That though we dot your heathen eyes with tears,
You will not cross our teas! C. H. W.

GENERAL NEWS FROM THE CAPITAL.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Monday, May 14.

Flag-officer MCCLUNEY, of the Home Squadron, has asked to be relieved, owing to debilitated health, arising from long detention in Aspinwall Bay. He is not as ill as has been represented by one of your contemporaries.

Col. HARVEY BROWN having been relieved from command at Fort Monroe, will receive orders to Fort Hamilton.

From the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON Monday, May 14.

A letter has been received in Washington from Gen. DEGOLLADO, dated Tampico, April 23, in which he says Zacatecas has been taken by the Liberals under URAGA, GONRALES, ORTEGA and CARAVAJAH. On the 10th URAGA went to El Fresinello, following SILVERIS RAMEZ, who was defeated on his way, with the loss of two pieces of artillery, many weapons, several prisoners and fourteen of his men, who deserted to the Liberals. Last month near Cocula, OGAZON and VALLE defeated and dispersed twelve hundred Reactionists under Don PADRO VALDES, who went back to Guadalajara with only a hundred of his troops, while he lost six pieces of artillery, seventy two mules loaded with ammunition, many weapons, with all their equipments, and many prisoners. Subsequently ROSAS took Zopollan, and probably will capture Colina or Guadalajara, which the Liberals intended lately to attack. Gen. DEGOLLADO adds:

"We will soon act against San Luis de Potosi, for I will set out next month to attack that city. BENITO GOMEZ FARINS has advanced with that object. If the Treaty were ratified we would be exceedingly strengthened, for the money obtained by it would enable me to attack the capital with 20,000 men."

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Monday, May 14.

There was a slim attendance, owing to a general interest felt in the arrival of the Japanese. The galleries were almost deserted, which led to some witty remarks—that the Japanese Embassy drew better than DOUGLAS.

Mr. CRITTENDEN, of Kentucky, (Am.,) moved that the Senate adjourn.

Mr. FESSENDEN, of Maine, (Rep.,) was opposed to adjourning for every show that came along.

Mr. CRITTENDEN explained that this rose far above an ordinary show.

After some debate the Senate adjourned, by yeas 19, nays 11.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WASHINGTON, Monday, May 14.

The chaplain, (Mr. STOCKTON,) in the course of his prayer, said: May Thy blessing rest on the Japanese Embassy, and may all that is done in connection with it be to Thy glory and for the good of their nation and the good of our own; that the people of that far-off island may be able to see the truth as in Jesus, and understand it, and to appreciate it; that they, like ourselves, may be redeemed by it, and give good hope of a better inheritance in heaven.

There was much confusion as to what business should first be considered, during which,

Mr. JOHN COCHRANE, of New-York, (Dem.,) wanted to know whether the House had seen the Japanese.

Several ineffectual motions to adjourn were made from the Democratic side.

Mr. DAWES, of Massachusetts, (Rep.,) who had previously moved to take up the Michigan contested election case, wanted to know what objection the Democrats had to considering it now.

Mr. LAMAR, of Mississippi, (Dem.)—Our side are not prepared.

The Clerk proceeded to call the roll as to whether the case should be taken up.

When the name of Mr. HUGHES, of Maryland, (Dem.,) was reached, he said he was tired of this fillibustering business. He had sometimes been kept here two hours while the House was engaged in such proceedings. He would not lend himself to them again. He was for going on with the business of Congress. [Cries of "Good," "Right," from the Republican side.] While further denouncing fillibustering parliamentary tactics, he was called to order by his Democratic friends.

The House, by 103 against 61, agreed to consider the Michigan contested election.

Mr. COLFAX, of Indiana, (Rep.,) from the Post-office Committee, reported a bill to establish certain post routes, all of which were recommended by members of the House. Passed without debate.

Mr. DAWES called for the reading of the resolution reported from the majority of the Committee on Elections, declaring that Mr. HOWARD is, and Mr. COOPER is not, entitled to a seat from the first Congressional District of Michigan.

The minority report declares that Mr. COOPER is entitled to retain his seat.

Mr. DAWES advocated Mr. HOWARD'S right, when the House adjourned.

[The names of Messrs. POTTLE and WOODRUFF should have appeared in the detailed vote on Friday against tabling the Idaho Territorial bill.]

THE CHICAGO CONVENTION.

ASSEMBLING OF THE DELEGATES.

Demonstrations of Popular Enthusiasm.

Expediency to be the Law Governing the Nominations.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

CHICAGO, Monday, May 14.

The passengers by the Southern Lake Shore line left Buffalo this morning, and reached Chicago at 9½ o'clock this evening. Great enthusiasm was exhibited all along the route; at every point crowds of people thronged the dépôts. Bands of music, the booming of cannon, and numberless cheers, testified the great interest felt by the masses touching the objects of the Convention.

At this point an immense procession was formed at the depôt. A brass band led off, and the immense concourse escorted the delegates through Lake-street, which was brilliantly illuminated. It is estimated that at least twenty thousand people joined in the welcome.

Among the arrivals by the Southern route are Gen. WEBB and Hon. HENRY RAYMOND, of New-York, Mr. TRASK, of Massachusetts, and manp of the Eastern delegations. The New-Yorkers mostly came by the other route. The feeling is strong for Mr. SEWARD, but the main question seems to be who can be elected? Can Mr. SEWARD? If so, then he is the first choice.

The opinion of the Pennsylvania, New-Jersey, Illinois and Indiana Delegations will have great weight in deciding this point.

BANKS has many friends. He has six in the Massachusetts Delegation. Nineteen from that State are for SEWARD, and the other is doubtful.

The Rhode Island Delegation was originally half Republican and half American. Since the Baltimore nomination the Americans have bolted, and some trouble is experianced in filling the vacancies.

Maine and Vermont are openly for FESSENDEN. One-third of the Ohians are for CHASE; the balance incline to WADE. CHASE'S free trade record hurts him.

The hotels are crowded; the streets are alive with enthusiastic shouters, and the spirit of 1840 seems to have revived and broken out afresh.

The Seward men are very confident. The Chase and Wade men work together. The Banks men are quiet, but expect a rally will be made in his favor at an early peried. Illinois alone works hard for LINCOLN. HOWARD.

From the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Monday, May 14.

An informal gathering, without any organization whatever, of the German Republicans, from different States, took place to-day, to consult about the manner and how it was best to secure the largest support on the part of foreign-born citizens for the nominee of the Chicago Convention.

The resolution arrived at was to endeavor to obtain from the Republican National Convention a plank in their platform recognizing perfect equality and protection to all citizens, at home and abroad, and declaring against any extension of the present term of naturalization, and against any discrimination between native and adopted citizens as to their qualifications as voters. There was no Convention, and the idea of holding one during the sitting of the National Convention seemed to meet with no favor.

Messrs. CHASE, SEWARD, LINCOLN and WADE were the Presidential preferences of the gentlemen present.

The best feeling prevailed, and all present appeared animated with the desire to do everything to secure a Republican victory in November.

The Committee acting for EDWARD BATES have issued an address to-day, giving various reasons why that gentleman should be nominated for President. They say Judge BATES, though a theorelical and practical emancipationist, is a native and life-long resident of a slaveholding section of our common country.

His nomination, therefore, would be a signal and final refutation of the charge of sectionalism so unfairly, and yet so effectiveiy urged against the Republican Party, and would render the fire-eating threats of disunion, in case of a Republican triumph, palpably futile and ridiculous. He is the favorite, and candidate of the entire Opposition of Missouri, and will be supported by them, not merely with enthusiasm, but with a confidence of success. We firmly believe Judge BATE'S nomination would nearly dissolve the organization, which has presented to the nation the highest respectable name of JOHN BELL and EDWARD EVERETT, and induce nine-tenths of those hitherto known as Americans, Old-Line Whigs, Union men, &c., to coöperate heartily with us in rescuing the country from the hands into which she has been permitted to fall. We believe now, by a united Opposition, Pennsylvania and New-Jersey will be united, and by the nomination of EDWARD BATES, Indiana, Illinois and Oregon will be carried, and a triumph in November thus placed beyond contingency. In conclusion, we say we entreat you to present the name of EDWARD BATES as the olive branch to the various parties which earnestly desire to overthrow the filibustering, Slavery-extending, sham-Democracy, as a proffer of fraternization and kindly regard. Do this in a generous, magnanimous spirit, and you will have vindicated our cause from the unjust, but damaging, imputation of Sectionalism. The address was signed by F. P. Blair, Horace Greeley, John D. Defrees, John C. Fogel, James B. Eads, Dr. A. Wammer, Committee.

The excursion trains from Suspension Bridge via Michigan Central, and from Buffalo via Michigan Southern, arrived at 9½ o'clock. It was received here at the dépôt amid the firing of cannon by an immense concourse of persons, and escorted thence in procession through the principal streets to the "Wigwam," where speeches were made by Col. CURTIN, of Pennsylvania; T. HOSSABANK, of Ohio; CALEB SMITH, of Indiana, and other distinguished gentlemen. Much disappointment was felt at not hearing TOM CORWIN, who was announced to speak this evening. Every train arriving brings large accessions to the already great number of visitors.

The excursion train on the Michigan Southern road arrived here at 9¾ o'clock. That on the Michigan Central road at 9½ o'clock. Both ran the distance between Buffalo and Chicago in from fifteen to fifteen and a half hours, with very heavy trains. On the Southern routes demonstrations were made at stations with bands of music and cannon. On reaching Chicago, the banks of the harbor were lined with Wide Awakes bearing torches, while every building was brilliantly illuminated.

A procession was formed to conduct the delegates to hotels. The streets were thronged, and much enthusiasm was manifested. The principal hotels are already filled to overflowing.

The time of the special Convention train from Buffalo to Chicago to-day was as follows: Buffalo to Erie, 88 miles, 2 hours 23 minutes; Erie to Cleveland, 95 miles, 2 hours 28 minutes; Cleveland to Toledo, 112 miles, 3 hours; Toledo to Chicago, 233 miles, 6 hours 15 minutes.

TRANSPORTATION WESTWARD.—We learn by telegraph from St. Catharines, C. W., that the broken lock in the Welland Canal is repaired, and that boats commenced passing yesterday morning. The Canal is now in good order. We also have advices by telegraph from Milwaukee, that the Northern Transportation Company's propeller Young America arrived at that port yesterday, with the first freight through by Canal and Lakes this season.

There is a family residing near Liberty Corner in Somerset Connty, N. J., composed of three persons—a man and his wife and wife's mother, whose united ages amount to 262 years and 10 months. The mother was 100 years old on the 15th ult. She is habitually cheerful and happy, and enjoys an excellent memory. Two days before completing her hundreth year she answered correctly every question in the Westminster Shorter Catechism. She has lived to see seven generations—two above and four below her own.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

REMOVAL OF A. V. STOUT, CITY CHAMBERLAIN, AND APPOINTMENT OF NATHAN C. PLATT.

In the Board of Aldermen, last evening, the following resolution was offered by Alderman DARRAGH and referred:

Resolved, That the Committee on Cleaning Streets be discharged from consideration of a communication from the City Inspector relative to the award of contract for street cleaning.

The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Street Commissioner be, and he is hereby authorized to place backing to the alternate brick piers of Tompkins Market; also to build a brick partition around the stairs leading from the lower floors to the Armory, and the expense thereof not to exceed the sum of $3,000, which amount is appropriated therefor, the same to be done without contract.

The President appointed the following a Committee to consider the communication of the Mayor in relation to the coming of the steamship Great Eastern to this port: Aldermen CORNELL, GENET and DARRAGH.

During a discussion of what is called the one third act, in relation to proportioning the payments for laying Belgian pavement, Mr. Thompson, of the Mayor's Office, deposited a message from the Mayor upon the President's desk. Several motions to adjourn were now put and lost, and finally Alderman BOOLE, who was in the chair, put the motion again, and while the members were calling for the ayes and noes, declared the Board adjourned, and left the chair.

Alderman GENET, after stating that that style of thing would not do, moved that Alderman STARR take the Chair, and asked Mr. Francis Toumey, the Deputy Clerk, to put the motion, which he did, and Alderman STARR took the Chair.

When the roll had been called, and one or two unimportant matters had been passed upon, the Chairman announced a Message from the Mayor, which was read as follows:

MESSAGE FROM HIS HONOR THE MAYOR.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW-YORK, May 14, 1860.

To the Honorable the Board of Aldermen:

GENTLEMEN: By virtue of the power vested in me by section 21 of the amended Charter of 1857, I hereby remove ANDREW V. STOUT from the office of City Chamberlain, and ask your concurrence.

The immediate cause for this removal is the refusal of that officer to allow any interest for the large balances in his hands to the credit of the Corporation though the City is paying several thousand dollars annually for interest paid on temporary loans.

On my assuming the duties of this office on the first of January, I learned from the Comptroller that the average balance on all amounts for the three preceding months, in the hands of the Chamberlain, had been over four million dollars, for which he had allowed the Corporation no interest whatever.

Deeming such a perquisite too large for any public officer, especially of a corporation which is continually a borrower, and seeing that a ruinous mode like this of conducting the public finances would bankrupt our already embarrassed treasury, I required that an interest account should be established by which at least a small rate should be allowed the corporation upon the monthly average balances in his hands. After delay and much evasion my request was denied, not however until he had made his peace with the managers of the State Legislature, and secured the passage of an act which he supposed placed him beyond the reach of the Mayor and corporation of this City. In this, however, he has failed. I am advised that the power of removal for cause still exists, and with your consent I now propose to exercise it.

Feeling, therefore, that the public interests require a change, and deeming myself fully justified, I hereby remove the present incumbent from the office of City Chamberlain, and ask your concurrence.

FERNANDO WOOD, Mayor.

Alderman SEAGRIST offered a resolution to the effect that the Board concur with the Mayor in the removal of Mr. A. V. Stout, and it was carried, as follows:

AYES—Aldermen Barry, Bagley, Brady, Tuomey, Starr, Russell, Darragh, Seagrist, Platt, Farley and Genet—10.

NOES—Aldermen Boole, Owens, Cornell and Brady—4.

The President then announced another Message from the Mayor, as follows:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW-YORK, May 14, 1860.

To the Honorable the Board of Aldermen:

I hereby nominate Mr. NATHAN C. PLATT as City Chamberlain to fill the vacancy made by the removal of Andrew V. Stout, and ask your concurrence.

FERNANDO WOOD, Mayor.

As soon as the message had been read, Alderman GENET moved that the Board confirm the Mayor's nomination, and on that he moved the previous question, which was carried, and the nomination was confirmed, as follows:

AYES—Aldermen Barry, Bagley, Brady, Tuomey, Starr, Russell, Darragh, Cornell, Seagrist, Platt, Farley and Genet—12.

NOES—Aldermen Boole and Owens—2.

The Board then adjourned to Thursday.

Mr. NATHAN C. PLATT is President of the Artisans' Bank.

BOARD OF COUNCILMEN.

FOURTH OF JULY—PAYING FIREMEN—NO APPROPRIATION FOR THE JAPANESE—NINTH-STREET NOT TO BE RENUMBERED—APPROPRIATIONS FOR DRILL-ROOMS—A STEAM FIRE DEPARTMENT ADOPTED.

A resolution to appoint a Committee of five to make suitable preparations for the celebration of our national anniversary was adopted. Another to pay firemen who are employed on "watch lines" at fires, on the Comptroller being satisfied that such duties were performed. This entering wedge towards the establishment of a paid department, being the first bill of the kind ever presented to the Common Council, was opposed by Mr. BAULCH, an Assistant Engineer of the Department, and was appropriately referred.

A petition granted by the other Board, in favor of numbering Ninth-street, East and West, was laid on the table. An examination of the original petition shows that the owners of forty-two lots asked for the change, while there was no official record of any opposition. The reader, however, announced in his most sonorous tones the name of Henry J. Raymond, one of the petitioners, entirely ignoring all others, the petition having been granted by the Board of Aldermen at once, and there being no report from the Committee of this Board, except a verbal one.

The appropriation of $30,000 for the reception of the Japanese Embassy as passed by the Board of Aldermen, was laid over without debate, evidencing that a screw was loose somewhere. The sum of $500 was appropriated for fitting up the drill-room over Centre Market, and $750 for fitting up that over Jefferson Market.

A resolution to pay $750 for the expenses of the Committee in examining the contested election case of this Board, was referred to the proper Committee, Mr. LENT, however, the sitting and successful member, declaring that it was not offered at his request or desire.

The ordinance, (heretofore reported) establishing steam fire-engines, was adopted, with the amendment that first-class engines should be allowed 70 men, and the second-class 60 men, the other sections remaining unaltered.

After the dispatch of some unimportant routine business, the resolution in the matter of appropriating $30,000 for the reception of the Japanese Embassy was again called up, and a motion made to recommit to the Finance Committee. This induced a long discussion, and drew from Mr. SHAW, the Chairman of the Committee, the acknowledgment that he was prepared now to report, but that he had in his pocket amendments to the resolution which his Committee had deemed proper, and which he preferred not to offer until the meeting on Monday evening next. A long and rambling discussion, in which Messrs. LEECH and SHAW bore the chief part, resulted from this admission, and which came near being personal; but the subject was finally disposed of (under the action of the previous question) by leaving the whole matter as it was in the early part of the evening.

The Board adjourned until Monday next, at 5 P.M.

POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

SANITARY REPORTS—A NEW COMMISSIONER APPOINTED.

The Board of Commissioners met yesterday at 1 o'clock P. M.

The usual Sanitary report from the New-York Squad embraced a list of two unsafe buildings, one at No. 516 Water-street, and the other at No. 182 Madison-street; besides which there were 41 places on the west side, above Canal-street, presented as nuisances, or dangerous to the public health on account of stagnant water, &c.

The Brooklyn Sanitary report embraced an equal number of objectionable places.

A patrolman of the Fourth Precinct received a decapitating blow from the official axe for imbibing in uniform.

William Young and Philip Marks were appointed roundsmen of the Eighteenth Ward, and patrolmen Duncan and Anderson to the same position in the Eleventh.

Among the appointments recently made are the following: George Warner, D. B. Jervis, —— Merritt, Troy and Fisher. Harrington and Carle were reappointed.

Mr. Thomas E. Ackton, long connected with the office of the City Register, has been appointed by Gov. Morgan to fill the place in the Board of Commissioners made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Pilsbury.

PROGRESS OF STREET-CLEANING.

The operations of the Street-cleaning Department for the past week are reported as follows: Number of men employed 343. Total of dirt and rubbish, ashes, and dirt, manure and ashes, $21,603—the whole costing the sum of $6,826 43. In view of the fact that the past week has been unfavorable to street-cleaning operations, the quantity of dirt removed is as remarkable as the amount of money expended. When the weather shall permit cleaning in earnest, Mr. DOWNING would do well to send some inspector in whom confidence can be reposed to examine the gutters in the Eighth-avenue in the neighborhood of Twenty-fifth and Thirtieth streets.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

PROBABLE ATTEMPT TO CLEAN THE STREETS.

The Board of Health met in secret session, yesterday, the Mayor being present. It was hinted, very indefinitely, of course, that the meeting had something to do with the anticipated visit of the Japanese Embassy to this City, and that it was intended to have the streets thoroughly cleaned as a special mark of honor to these distinguished strangers; but that in view of the enormous expense which such a labor would entail, it was deemed the course of prudence not to make it known until the bills were sent in, and hence the secrecy of the session.

A resolution to inquire into the rights, powers and duties of the "Inspector of Vessels," an officer very little known outside of the City Hall, but well remembered by all shipping merchants, was laid over for informality, the mover not having signed his name, and will come up at the next meeting, on the first Monday in June, when the subject will possibly be officially considered.

FROM UTAH.

Government Purchases—A High Figure—The Judicial Conflict—Mormon Assumption.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

CAMP FLOYD, U. T., Wednesday, April 17, 1860.

In writing in relation to the great mule sale, soon after it occurred, I said that when any portion of the army was required to be removed the Government would have to purchase worse means of transportation at higher figures. This is history now. The purchase of 1,260 oxen and 65 wagons from Majors RUSSELL and WADELL has been ordered, the oxen at $80 per yoke, and the wagons at $85 each, without even making provision for the contingency of their not being wanted, or leaving anything whatever to the discretion of the Chief of the Quartermaster's Department here, who is by the way a most reliable and a most valuable man to the service. Oxen have heretofore been selling here at from forty-five to fifty dollars per yoke, and the Quartermasters could have purchased any number at these rates, had Mr. Secretary FLOYD chosen to leave it to them. The identical wagons now purchased by the Government were offered to your correspondent for twelve dollars each, not three months ago, by the agent of the said firm; the large number in the Territory, and their utter worthlessness, are the causes of their apparent cheapness; they are great ponderous machines, manufactured from green and unseasoned timber, and are now ready to fall to pieces: but it would not look so bad if the Government had any use for them, but they have not. The gentlemen here having authority were wise enough to sell but few of the army wagons, and consequently they have as many as will be required for the present movement of neat, light and strong ones, and those purchased will probably be hauled into an adjacent cañon, and there left to rot down, or else be appropriated by the Mormons.

News has reached camp that a party of ten or twelve emigrants, chiefly discharged soldiers, who left here about ten days since for Carson Valley, were murdered by the Indians, but how much reliance ought to be placed in these reports is uncertain.

The Probate Courts continue to arrest, try, and imprison persons charged with crime, regardless of the decisions of Chief Justice ECKELS denying their jurisdiction in the premises, and the Mormon newspapers abuse him like a pickpocket weekly. I have no doubt that he feels very much obliged to them, for their abuse is the highest commendation they could bestow.

The Gentiles are anxiously awaiting the action of Congress in regard to Utah, while the Mormons look forward to it with fear and trembling. Mr. NELSON's bill for the suppression of polygamy, &c., meets with general approbation among the Gentiles, but at least two regiments of soldiers would be required to enforce its provisions. But Mr. NOELL, of Missouri, strikes more nearly at the root of the evil, when he proposes to withdraw from the people the power to make their local laws through an elective Assembly, by which is meant their present legislative system. The Legislature, under the forms of law, has deprived the people of every semblance of liberty. The Church creates the Legislature, and appoints its members, (for they are not elected by a regular vote of the people,) and then, out of gratitude, the Legislature makes the Church the supreme power of the land, both spiritual and temporal, civil and ecclesiastical, and from its ruling there is no appeal; even a demurrer provokes a severance from its pales, and that is not unfrequently followed by a severance of the windpipe. To prove that their legislative enactments are perfectly farcical, it is only necessary to refer to the fact that their statute-books contain a law of extraordinary severity against the crime of adultery, and yet polygamy is notoriously practiced by every Mormon able to support more than one woman. They make laws as they do speeches, for effect in the States, without intending that they shall be observed or listened to in the Territory. In a few words, the only feasible way of governing the Territory, is to make the commander of the Military Department the civil Governor, and constitute him and the Judges the Legislature, and give them power to use the troops as a civil posse ad libitum, as it was in "the Territory northwest of the River Ohio," for it is perfectly absurd to talk of applying popular sovereignty to an unwilling people. As well attempt to apply it to the government of a penitentiary as to Utah.

RICHARD.

Douglas and the Southern Democracy.

The leading Democratic paper of the Southwest, the Louisville Democrat thus pronounces for Popular Sovereignty and against the Charleston Secessionists:

The action of the recent Convention is the theme of all discussions. Will it result in the dissolution of the Union? We see no cause to anticipate such a result. The party has at once and forever repudiated disunionism. It has refused to strike its colors either at the bid of venal politicians or honest but misguided disunionists. The Convention at Baltimore will be a strong conservative body. Its course will be dictated by wisdom and moderation. The yells of hired, slanderous and venal politicians who have created turmoil and confusion will sink before the strong voice of the multitude counseling wisdom. It was probably right that the Convention should give the seceding States an opportunity to be heard. They were misrepresented by some of their delegates who went to Charleston not to nominate, but to defeat a nomination. The will of the people, their love for the Union, and their nationalism were sacrificed to the lowest schemes, and a rebuke will be given. From every State we will receive delegates for measures, and not some as opposed to one man, and that man the one whose whole life has been one gallant and generous fight for the Democracy. Whoever counsels disunion counsels treason. Whoever glories in secession is an enemy to his country. He would rejoice at her downfall and fatten on her dead body as the sow which eats her farrow. The rebuke to such men must come from public opinion, and those whom they threaten. There are no disunionists in Kentucky, and we rejoice at it.

Of all the parties and factions that have struggled in Kentucky since she became a State, not one has ever dared to whisper such a desire. A speaker counseling disunion would be hissed, if not pelted, from the stand. We hold these secessionists at Charleston, from the Convention, as equally culpable, only a little less honest. The avowed disunionist has some reason for it. He believes the present form of Government injurious to the interests of his section, but these secessionists do not. They throw off the party because it does not assert that Congress should give protection to a specific property, when it cannot and will not; and yet when assembled in this fragmentary Convention, they themselves refuse to demand such laws. They do not declare that Congress must pass laws now to protect Slavery. No, this resolution was voted down. They say that in an emergency, at some future period, Congress must do so. If there ever is to be an emergency, it has arisen. Territories have not only indirectly but directly excluded slavery. No wonder some honest disunionists, slave protectionists, were kicked out of that foul body. It had not even the plea of honesty in opinions to excuse its folly. Its carcass was putrescent at birth, and foul with loathsome corruption. If the Kentucky delegation had been led into this disreputable business, all the water in the Ohio could not have washed them pure enough to make them welcome home. Kentucky holds no terms with these men. She is true to the Union, true to her political principles, and an uncompromising opponent of fraudulent trickery and political chicanery. If she takes a side, it will be open and above board and without reserve.

The Baltimore Convention will nominate DOUGLAS beyond a doubt. The opposition in the South, where it is honest, straightforward disunion, is scarcely a fragment. The political wire-workers, who seceded, are gone, and in their place we will have men fresh from the people. They may prefer another, but they will not sacrifice the party to favoritism. Our party will come forth from the fire purified and strengthened. Many office-holders will be laid in limbo. The sweets of private life will be conceded to many political aspirants in the Southern seceding States, and our candidate will sweep the Union like fire in the prairie, and the nation will have a new lease of life.

At the last meeting of the Boston Society of Natural History, two albino children were exhibited, both girls, of the ages of four and seven years, born of parents both black. The parents have had several other children, and one black child between these two. The hair is milk white, possessing all the characters of negro hair except color; the iris is colorless, and with the pupil has the ordinary pink tint of albinos from the color of the vessels of the choroid; the eye-brows, eye-lashes, and down on the body are pure white.

FEMALE OFFENDERS ON TRIAL—SENTENCES.

The woman Amelia Morrell, alias Sarah Fann, a noted shoplifter, indicted for grand larceny, and bailed in April in the sum of $2,000, and who afterwards fled to Canada, forfeiting her bonds, was brought into Court yesterday morning by officer Rosenberg, of the Twenty-sixth Precinct, who pursued her to Canada and arrested her. She pleaded a second time Not Guilty to the charge preferred against her, and was ordered to be committed without bail.

James Smith, indicted for passing two counterfeit $2 bills on the Warren Bank of Rhode Island, which offence amounted to forgery in the second degree, pleaded guilty to forgery in the fourth degree, and was sentenced to the State Prison for two years.

Catharine Keetz, a German woman, having been ill-treated by her husband, and at length dismissed by him, married after the lapse of three years a man named Etzler. It was proved that both Etzler and herself, from the representations of other Germans, believed that the laws of this State allowed a second marriage when nothing had been heard of a former wife or husband for the space of three years. The Assistant District-Attorney recommended her to the mercy of the Court and she was allowed to depart. She had been in the Tombs seven months awaiting trial.

Wilhelmina Rudolph pleaded guilty to an attempt at grand larceny, and was sentenced to one year in the Penitentiary.

David Frank and Leopold Blum were employed in a slaughter-house in Stanton-street, on the 21st of February last. They got into a dispute about some calves, and made spittoons of each other's faces. Blows ensued, and after blows, knives. Blum said he was stabbed, Frank ditto. The Jury could not determine which was the aggressor, and acquitted the defendant.

George Kessler and Louis Keille were tried and acquitted on a charge of grand larceny.

The Court adjourned till this morning.

Court of Oyer and Terminer.

BEFORE JUDGE INGRAHAM.

This Court was opened yesterday morning, but owing to the absence of the District Attorney, Mr. Nelson J. Waterbury—who, it was understood, had left the City to procure additional testimony relative to the case of Robert C. Macdonald, indicted for the murder of Virginia Stewart, in Broadway, on the 4th of August, 1859—the Judge ordered an adjournment till to-day. The case of Macdonald is now disposed of in a most impressive manner, that unfortunate man having yesterday committed suicide in the Tombs. The other cases set down for trial will be speedily brought up and disposed of.

The Sickles and Williamson Contest.

Application of Amor J. Williamson.—This application, which has two or three times been stated in the TIMES, has resulted in the following certificate from the Justices of the Supreme Court, which will be used before the House Committee on Elections, at Washington, in an effort to have the resolution in the case modified:

To the House of Representatives of the United States:

The undersigned Justices of the Supreme Court of the State of New-York, residing in the City of New-York, respectfully represent that the Matter of the contested election in the Third Congressional District of the City of New-York has been brought before them by and on behalf of Amor J. Williamson, Esq., contestant, with the view to take the testimony of witnesses in support of his allegations under and in pursuance of a resolution of your honorable body, adopted March 21, 1860.

That all the undersigned are daily engaged in holding Courts, and that in view of the great pressure of business in said Courts, and of the obligations and duties imposed upon them by the constitution and laws of the State of New-York, the undersigned find it impossible to take the testimony of witnesses in said matter in the manner required by the act of Congress in that behalf, passed Feb. 19, 1851.

Enright Suing for Slander.

John E. Enright vs. Henry Porter.—This was an action for slander against the defendant, who is Cashier of the Howard House.

The plaintiff alleges that the reputation of his house and his own character have been injured by the assertion of defendant that his (plaintiff's) house in Cedar-street was a "thieving hole."

It appears that a person acquainted with the defendant came to the City and stopped at the plaintiff's house; and wishing to see Porter, and not knowing where the Howard House was, was conducted thither by the plaintiff himself. Defendant not knowing plaintiff, said in his hearing, as the stranger stated, of the house where he was stopping, that it was a "thieving hole." This action was therefore commenced to recover for the slanderous statement.

The case now came on for trial in the Common Pleas, before Judge HILTON, and the jury rendered a verdict for defendant.

C. S. Spencer for plaintiff. Mr. Miller for defendant.

The Ballot-Box Case.

Jordan L. Mott vs. The Board of Supervisors.—This was an action brought by the plaintiff as assignee of S. C. Jollie, upon a contract for making ballot-boxes for the Metropolitan Police District. The facts of the case are as follows:

Samuel C. Jollie on the 12th of August, 1857, made a contract with the Board of Police Commissioners to furnish all the glass ballot-boxes necessary for the Metropolitan Police District, not to exceed four thousand, at $15 per box.

Twelve hundred boxes were delivered by him to the Property Clerk of the Police Commissioners, and were used at the election in 1857. On October 19, 1857, the Board of Supervisors of New-York, adopted a resolution,

"That the Comptroller be authorized and directed to draw his warrant for such sums of money as may be required to pay for the ballot-boxes provided by the Metropolitan Police Commissioners, pursuant to the 21st section of the 'act to establish a Metropolitan Police District, and to provide for the government thereof.'" The bill, however, was not paid.

Jollie then assigned his claim to the plaintiff, who brings suit against the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of New-York, upon the contract made by the Police Commissioners. The complaint was dismissed at Special Term, and appeal was taken by the plaintiff to the General Term where the case was now argued, and decision reserved.

Beebe, Dean & Donohue, and James T. Brady for plaintiff; Greene C. Bronson and H. H. Anderson for the Corporation.

MONDAY, May 14—P. M.

The Weekly Averages of the Banks of the City of New-York on Saturday, May 12, 1860, present in the aggregate the following changes from the previous exhibit of May 5:

Decrease in Loans......$1,294,988
Decrease in Specie......1,035,359
Decrease in Circulation......238,050
Decrease in Undrawn Deposits......1,722,651

Including the Clearing-house operations of the week, which show the inter-exchanges between the Banks, and including, also, the Sub-Treasury statement of Saturday, the following is the general comparison with the previous exhibit, and also with the movement this time last season:

	May 14 1859.	May 12, 1860.	May 5, 1860.
Capital	$68 324 000	$69,433,000	$69,433,000
Loans	129 680,408	126 184,532	127,479,520
Specie	25,171,335	22,780,387	23 815,746
Circulation	8,490,933	9 153 811	9,391,861
Gross Deposits	113,141,178	105,507,134	108 505,420
Exchanged	24,445,039	25,270 460	26,546,095
Undrawn	88,696 639	80,236,674	81,959,325
In Sub-Treasury	6,020,420	6,530,414	7,049 143

The Bank return shows a heavy involuntary decrease in the line of Discounts, denoting unusual ease in the market for Money at Bank as well as on the Street. The decrease in Specie is less than the heavy export at the close of the previous week had prepared the Street to look for. The average is now a rising one on the California receipts of last Saturday. The turn of the interior Gold exchanges is, as usual in May, decidedly in favor of the City, and this will continue to be felt through the Summer. The Deposit line runs off by the operation of paying up indebtedness to the Banks as well as to Europe. The per centage of Specie to the present line is 28½ cents on the dollar, while 20 ₽ cent. is taken as the average standard of ease and security. The movement, altogether, is calculated to impart additional confidence to the market through the present and succeeding month, even though the export demand for Bullion should again increase, of which there is no immediate prospect, by the steamers sailing this week. We hear of no alteration in the market for Discounts or loans on demand to-day. In the Foreign Exchanges the transactions for the Boston steamer are generally at a concession of ⅛ ₽ cent., although the standard bankers still hold for 109⅝. A line of about £50,000, we have reason to believe, was placed at 109½ ₽ cent., first-class City-drawn bills, and £10,000 Southern Bank bills at 109⅜ ₽ cent. On Paris the terms are f.5.14⅜@f.5.13¾ at 60 days, and f.5.11⅞@f.5.11¼ at short sight. An intermediate mail is made up in the morning for the Hamburg steamer, sailing from this port and calling at Southampton. She will take a small shipment of Gold and Silver.

The Market for Stocks was again strong and upward bound. The New-York Railway Shares were the most buoyant to-day, Central improving 1 ₽ cent., Hudson 2½@3 ₽ cent., Harlem ½ ₽ cent., and Erie ⅜ ₽ cent. On some of the Western Shares, the realizations on Saturday, on the heavy rise of last week, created something of a dull feeling in the forenoon, when the sales of Galena and Rock Island were below the usual average amount, and this indication encouraged a concession in prices at the afternoon Board, the quotations, however, finally closing steady. Galena 66@66⅛, and Rock Island 69⅞@69¾ ₽ cent. The large advance in Chicago and Burlington was maintained, within ⅛ ₽ cent., last sales 68¾ ₽ cent. Toledo and Michigan Central rather neglected by speculation. Michigan Southern firm on both classes of Stock. Pacific Mail rose to par ex. dividend, equal to 110 before the dividend. The price closed 99½ ex. dividend. The weakest point on the Share list in the afternoon was Panama, which dropped off to 143 ₽ cent., on rumors by the last mail that the New-Granadian Government has become so unsettled in its politics as to render an immediate conclusion of the negotiation for the extension of the Company's charter impracticable. It is now surmised that the recent seller's options at 145@145½, as well as the previous cash sales at 140 by a leading Broker, may have been based upon the probability of this impediment. At the same time the general upward course of the market and the active and profitable business of the Road are not such as to encourage short sales upon a mere political difficulty. The demand for State Stocks continues good, with a fair supply of Tennessees at the current price of 91¼ ₽ cent. Missouris are a fraction higher, and Virginias steady. O other descriptions the offering is light and prices firm. The Western Free Bankers are buyers of Georgias, Illinois, North Carolinas, &c., at full rates, as these stocks offer on the market, and are also liberal buyers of Tennessees, Missouris and Virginias. The Federal stocks are held for a further advance, Coupons of 1874 at 103⅞; Registered, 104@104½. Texas Indemnity, 102½@102¾. The general market at the close this afternoon was steady on the Western shares, and a fraction off on the New-York roads, after the decided rise on the latter through the day. A large private sale of 6,500 shares New-York Central at 82 ₽ cent. was rumored in the afternoon, although the price subsequently closed 81⅝@⅞ ₽ cent. The extreme advance in Hudson River was to 46 ₽ cent., large sales, closing 45½. Harlem Preferred, 39⅞@39½ ₽ cent. Erie firm, at 21¾ ₽ cent. The speculation to-day has run strongest upon these New-York stocks. The increasing gross traffic and substantial net income on the Central and Erie lines, and the statement of the condition of the Hudson River Company, have encouraged outside orders, on the calculation that considerably higher figures are to be attained before the close of June.

The Stock Exchange Board to-day reëlected, for the ensuing year, their old officers, Mr. W. H. NEILSON President, Messrs. WHEELOCK and E. S. MONROE Vice-Presidents, BEECHER Treasurer, BROADHEAD Secretary, J. W. MONROE Assistant Secretary, and SHIPMAN Roll-keeper.

Mr. E. THOMSON, Stock Auctioneer, supplies a semi-monthly Price Current of Insurance, Bonds and other securities, from his office, No. 41 Pine-street.

The Lorillard Fire Insurance Office, one of our best managed Companies, is to have hereafter half a million capital, in place of $200,000. The books of subscription for additional stock to the amount of $300,000 will be opened on Monday, the 2d of July, and remain open until the 10th of the same month. The transfer books will be closed from the 25th of June until the 20th day of July, inclusive. The present stockholders will be entitled to subscribe to the new issue at the rate of three shares of the new for every two shares of the old standing in their names, or they may assign their rights to others.

TO SOUTHERNERS.

DRINKERS OF CONGRESS WATER.

Much spurious Mineral Water is sold as CONGRESS WATER" by unprincipled persons or counterfeiters, who when they dare not use that name, call it "Saratoga" Water; although "Saratoga" is only the name of the town in which the Spring is situated.

To protect the public from such impositions we have ALL our corks branded thus: CONGRESS C. & W. WATER. Any not having these words and letters on the corks, are counterfeit; and the purchaser should prosecute the seller for swindling.

Orders will receive prompt attention if addressed to us, at our Southern Depot of Congress Water, No. 36 Cedar-st., New-York City.

CLARKE & WHITE,
Proprietors Congress Spring.

Lists of dealers who procure Congress Water for their sales direct from our house, are kept at our office for distributing to those who desire to purchase genuine Congress Water in their own neighborhood. C. & W.

PILLAR OF FIRE.

Handsomely bound in one large 12mo volume of 603 pages, with a gift. Price $1 25.

"This volume is the third of a series of original, sublime and thrilling narratives of Holy Writ, and the wonderful and momentous events which characterise these histories are invested with a charm of solemn and fascinating grandeur, unequaled in their spell—irresistible in their Christianizing influence. The history of David as a Shepherd—Poet—Musician—Warrior—King—Prophet and Friend, and a 'man after God's own heart,' with that of his son Solomon, with the events which attend their triumph of valor, wisdom and prophecy, are given here with a graphic fidelity and religious coloring, which, while it entertains and instructs, cannot fail to awaken the popular mind to the divine truths and wonders of the Bible.

The Throne of David is a connecting link between 'The Pillar of Fire' and 'The Prince of the House of David,' and forms the completion of this interesting and popular series."

Handsomely Illustrated and bound in one large 12mo volume of 603 pages. Price $1 25.

WHAT BOOK CAN BE MORE DESIRABLE FOR YOUR LIBRARY?

TOM HOOD'S NOVEL,
TYLNEY HALL.

This book, the only novel by Hood, is pronounced by the best journals and by literary persons as a remarkable work, fully equal to the world-wide reputation of the author of "The Song of the Shirt," "The Bridge of Sighs," &c.

It is not a book one reads once from the public library—a common novel—but it is a book
THAT EVERY GENTLEMAN WANTS FOR HIS LIBRARY.

The Boston Library Edition is elegantly electrotyped and printed in the best Cambridge style, and the comment of the Press on the mechanical execution has been one of universal admiration.

THE ECLECTIC TUNE BOOK, a selection of standard Church Tunes, with new and appropriate pieces for the opening and closing of public worship. Edited by WM. B. BRADBURY. This book is prepared by direction of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, under the superintendence of a committee from that body. The aim has been to combine the most popular, effective and excellent tunes, old and new, now in use among the churches. The selection has been based upon actual returns contained in more than 500 lists of tunes furnished in response to a circular of inquiry sent to leading churches in every section of the country. There have been added some new tunes by leading composers, and a large number of occasional pieces for opening and closing worship. The book is printed on large, clear type, with one part on a staff. Retail price, $1. A single copy for examination will be sent to any clergyman or choirister, post-paid, on receipt of 75 cents. Published for Presbyterian Publication Committee, Philadelphia, by MASON BROS., 5 and 7 Mercer-st., N. Y.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The Japanese Ambassadors have survived the perils of their journeyings, and are now, with their treaty-box, safely sheltered in their quarters at the Capital. At 4½ o'clock, on Sunday afternoon, they were transferred from the Roanoke to the Philadelphia, and in ten minutes afterwards were at Old Point, where they were received with salutes and music. After partaking of refreshments, the Ambassadors reëmbarked on the Philadelphia, and steamed up the Potomac. Off Mount Vernon the vessel stopped, and while the band played plaintive music, the interpreter told them to whom the honors were paid. About 11½ o'clock, yesterday morning, the Philadelphia appeared in sight of the multitude which thronged the Navy-yard at Washington. Mayor BERRETT, in accordance with the precedent which allows municipal courtesies to be tendered before national, went on board the vessel and welcomed the distinguished guests to the city. Then the treaty-box was passed to a small boat, and the Japanese followed. On landing at the Navy-yard, Capt. BUCHANAN welcomed them in the name of the President. No formal reply was made, and a procession was immediately formed to escort the Ambassadors to their quarters. First of all was the President's mounted guard; then came the Japanese in hacks; then the treaty, and last of all the marines and the District militia. A dense crowd thronged the avenues through which the procession passed, and it was not until 2½ o'clock that the guests were allowed to retreat from the gaze of curious thousands to the privacy of their apartments.

The Senate, yielding to the giddiness of youth, was unable to withstand the excitement attending the reception of the Japanese and adjourned without transacting any business. The House was sorely tempted to the same trick of idleness, but some debate upon the report of the Committee upon Contested Seats, in regard to that for the 1st District of Michigan, was had prior to the adjournment.

The dispatches we receive from Chicago indicate a strong feeling among the delegates who have thus far arrived for Mr. SEWARD. Expediency will, however, govern all the transactions of the Convention; and if, in the opinion of delegations from doubtful States, Mr. SEWARD is not available, the preferences of New-York and New-England will be yielded. A preliminary meeting of Germans was held yesterday, to determine what modification of the forthcoming platform will justify the German population in supporting the nomination.

The Overland Express, bringing dates from San Francisco to the 5th inst., arrived at St. Joseph's yesterday. The news is unimportant. The Legislature, after passing a number of beneficial, with the usual proportion of mischievous enactments, had adjourned. Much anxiety with regard to the crops prevailed. The impression seemed to be that there will be a disastrous failure. The rush of emigration to Carson Valley continued, and the attractions of Washoe were unabated. The Ophir Company had organized with a capital of $7,000,000, anticipating a monthly return of $1,500,000 during the Summer.

Judging from the statements of our Utah correspondent, the Government is still disposed to drive a brisk trade in mules and wagons. Instead of leaving the purchase of these animals and vehicles to those on the ground who were qualified to judge of their true value, the Administration has ordered the purchase from Messrs. MAJORS, RUSSELL & WADDELL, of 1,200 oxen, at $80 per yoke, when they could easily have been bought for from $45 to $50, and of 65 wagons, at $85 each, which had already been offered to our correspondent for $12. The Probate Courts in the Territory continued the arrest and punishment of criminals, despite the decisions of Chief Justice ECKELS, and were receiving a liberal share of abuse from the Gentile Press. Mr. NELSON's Anti-Polygamy Bill was regarded with much hostility by those for whose restraint it was more especially designed.

The arrival of the Isabel at Charleston furnishes Havana advices to the 10th inst. There was no political news, and the markets were without change.

A petition was presented to the Methodist Conference at Buffalo yesterday from the John-street Church in this City, asking for a permanent endowment, on the ground that the Church was the oldest of its denomination in the country. The matter was referred to a Committee of five. The Committee on Itinerancy was directed to report whether the Philadelphia Conference had passed on the character of a slaveholder who had been connected with it, and whether it had raised any slaveholder to membership contrary to the discipline. Twenty-three petitions for a change in the rule relating to Slavery, and one against alteration, were submitted. Various recommendations made by the Committee on Missions were adopted.

The community was startled yesterday by rumors, which subsequent events verified, that Mr. ISAAC V. FOWLER, who has occupied the office of Postmaster of this City for seven years, had proved a defaulter to the General Government in a large amount. He has, it is charged, failed to deposit at the Sub-Treasury over $155,000 of the postal revenue collected for the Government. This deficit has been accumulating for some time, and there are various statements regarding the disposition which has been made of the money. The general opinion is that it has been advanced in the shape of loans to political friends, and that the exposure of the defalcation at this particular time is a political trick. The bondsmen of Mr. FOWLER are Messrs. GEORGE LAW and G. A. CONOVER. The sureties they gave, however, amount only to $75,000, and it is said that they cannot be held liable even to this extent, as Mr. FOWLER's misdemeanor commenced at a time when they were not responsible for his conduct. Mr. FOWLER's whereabouts is not known at present. He left his hotel at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and the officials who have been endeavoring to track him since have failed to apprehend him. Rumor indicates as leading candidates for the succession, Hon. JOHN A. DIX and Mr. WILSON G. HUNT.

About noon yesterday the attention of the physicians of the City Prison was called to the condition of ROBERT C. MACDONALD, confined in a cell on the second corridor, on an indictment for the murder of VIRGINIA STEWART, in Broadway, in August last, and for which he was shortly to be tried in the Court of Oyer and Terminer. When visited by the physician he was perfectly insensible, having taken a large quantity of Munn's Elixir, an opiate four times as strong as laudanum. He was at once removed to the Hospital cell, where restoratives were applied. The stomach-pump was freely used, and he was plentifully showered with water, but without avail, and his death occured at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

The debate on the controversy in Dr. CHEEVER's Church was resumed last evening, at the lecture-room of the Church, and Messrs. BLANKMAN, BERRY and GILBERT gave their views at length on the merits of the question at issue, but nothing novel or interesting was elicited in the discussion. The debate is to be continued on Thursday evening.

Justice MULLEN, of the Supreme Court, has granted the motion to dissolve the injunctions in the Cheever Church case. A very lengthy opinion was rendered by Justice MULLEN.

Last evening the Mayor sent a message to the Board of Aldermen, removing Mr. A. V. STOUT from the office of City Chamberlain. He gave, as a reason for doing so, that Mr. STOUT had refused to allow interest on balances of the City money in his hand, which sometimes amounted to $4,000,000; and he thought that while the City was so large a borrower at interest, it could not afford to let so much money remain unproductive. The Board concurred in the removal by a vote of 10 to 4. He also sent in a message nominating Mr. NATHAN C. PLATT to fill the vacancy caused by the removal of Mr. STOUT, and as soon as it had been read the Board confirmed the nomination by a vote of 12 to 2. Mr. PLATT is an importer of jewelry, doing business at No. 20 Maiden-lane, and a man of wealth and respectability. He is also President of the Artisans' Bank, in which, it is exceedingly probable, the City money will hereafter be kept.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen last night, preparations were made for the Fourth of July, by the appointment of a Committee of five. A resolution was offered to pay firemen employed on "watch lines," an innovation never before attempted in the Fire Department. The $30,000 appropriation for the Japanese was laid over.

In the application of Mr. WILLIAMSON to have testimony taken by the Supreme Court in relation to the contested seat in Congress, the Justices of the Supreme Court have concurred in a certificate to the effect that it is impossible for either of them to attend personally to the taking of the testimony.

The report of the City Inspector states that 472 deaths occurred in this City last week, against 402 during the week ending May 5. During the corresponding weeks of 1858 and 1859 there were 404 and 379 deaths respectively.

The vacancy in the Board of Police Commissioners has been filled by the appointment of THOMAS E. ACTON, long attached to the office of the City Register. At the meeting yesterday the usual sanitary reports from New-York and Brooklyn were received, and a few changes were made in the force.

The trial of ALBERT W. HICKS alias Johnson, for robbery on the high seas, it being one of the indictments under which he is held, in connection with the murders of Capt. BURR, and the first and second mates of the sloop E. A Johnson, with the alleged subsequent piracy, was commenced, yesterday, before Judge SMALLEY, in the United States District Court. The great popular excitement which has attended this notorious case, of course, caused the Court-room to be filled, but contrary to general expectation but little difficulty was experienced in impanneling a jury. The Assistant District Attorney opened the case in a plain and practical speech, setting forth its entire history, and then proceeded to call witnesses. The trial will probably occupy four days.

The first anniversary of a new association, which takes its title from "The Old Dominion," and is designed to commemorate, after the manner of the New-England Society, the landing of the first English settlers in Virginia, was held, last evening, in the Cooper Institute. An address, in which the social and political history of Virginia was elaborately portrayed, was delivered by Mr. SUMMERS.

There was a further advance in the Stock market yesterday, but with less buoyancy at the close in the afternoon. The Exchange market easier. The Bank return shows a diminution movement all round. The discounts are down $1,294,000, and the specie $1,035,000. The market for money keeps steady at moderate rates.

Cotton was less active, yet quoted steady. Flour, Wheat and Corn were more freely offered and were lower. Provisions were generally in fair request. Sugars were rather brisker. Coffee, Hay, Hops, Molasses, Metals and Rice were quiet. Naval Stores were moderately inquired for. Linseed Oil was in demand. Whisky was plenty and declining. Freights were inactive.

The President and the New-York Post-Office.

The mysterious rumors which have been floating for some time between Washington and New-York, of serious defalcations chargeable to the account of a leading Federal officer in this City, yesterday took shape and substance. Mr. ISAAC V. FOWLER, who for nearly eight years has administered the affairs of the Post-office in this City, left his residence on Sunday, and has not since been seen. The Assistant Postmaster-General, with other functionaries of the Government, has come on to New-York to investigate the condition of the office under Mr. FOWLER's supervision; and the Marshal of the District has received a warrant for his arrest on the charge of embezzling the public funds. This charge is preferred under a statute of the United States which makes "a failure to pay over or produce the public moneys intrusted" to a person in Mr. FOWLER's position "prima facie evidence of embezzlement." It is not to be understood, therefore, that Mr. FOWLER has been proved guilty of any intention ultimately to defraud the Treasury. We make this explanation for the sake of such faint palliation as it may put upon the conduct of a man whose frank and generous nature had so won upon all with whom he was brought into contact that his bitterest political opponents will hear of his fall with deep and unmixed sorrow.

It appears that Mr. FOWLER is in arrears to the Treasury in a sum certainly exceeding $150,000; and it is stated by well-informed persons that, throughout almost the whole of his term of office, Mr. FOWLER, who was appointed by Mr. PIERCE, and who has done more than almost any other man in New-York to support the tottering Administration of Mr. BUCHANAN, has been in the habit of delaying large payments from the Post-office beyond the day on which they fell due. A conspicuous metropolitan politician, Mr. FOWLER, in his double capacity of Grand Sachem of Tammany and confidential representative of the President, no doubt had constant occasion to employ money for purposes which the investigations of Congress have already shown that Mr. BUCHANAN and other leaders of his party regard as eminently legitimate. It is by no means impossible, indeed, that Mr. FOWLER's contributions to the fund advanced by the New-York Democracy to aid the election of Mr. BUCHANAN himself may have been drawn from the Government resources. Of course, these tithes taken of the Treasury were to be restored to it again; and this circumstance will, perhaps, account satisfactorily for the otherwise amazing fact that proceedings such as these could have been carried on through nearly the whole of a Presidential term; to be brought to light only when the failure of Mr. FOWLER, and others of the President's champions, to control the Convention at Charleston, and the evident approach of an hour wherein all earthly things must become alike insignificant to an expiring Executive, have made Executive forbearance more dull, and Executive insight more keen.

More than a month ago, before the meeting of the Charleston Convention, and during the temporary absence of Mr. HOLT, the active and honorable head of the Post-Office Department from a post which he has but a short time filled, Mr. FOWLER, it will be recollected, was summoned to Washington; and many strange and dark sayings then gained currency as to official life in the metropolis. It is, at least, curious that the explosion which Mr. HOLT now appears to have forced upon the country, should have been deferred just long enough for the Presidential forces to be proved and found wanting at Charleston. Interpreted by the light which has thus far been actually thrown upon it, Mr. FOWLER's unhappy career rather illustrates, therefore, than contrasts with that general system of political life, which includes Attorney-Generals of the United States paying over to Presidential organists the sums necessary to enable them to buy representatives of the people; and chief magistrates of the Union begging that steamship contractors may be kindly attended to. That a man of free and liberal nature, unfamiliar with the responsibilities and the restraints which habits of business impose, breathing daily the atmosphere of power, as power now is in America, devoted to his party, and confiding in his chiefs, should have been easily whirled along from carelessness to criminality, is the least surprising thing possible. The ruin of such a man as Mr. FOWLER, engaged in such a course, was always a mere question of time on the one hand, or of loyalty among his associates on the other. Now that it has come, it sounds a fresh blast of the trumpet before those crumbling walls of corruption and intrigue which of late years have been reared about the Federal Administration at Washington. The man we cannot choose but pity. The system which tempted him, and its supporters are the true criminals, and upon them we trust will fall, with irresistible force, the weight of public indignation and of public scorn.

The Irish Exodus.

The Irish emigration to this country which it was supposed, a year or two ago, would abate under the influence of great prosperity at home, has again set in with such violence that the English Press begins to prophesy the total transfer, at no distant period, of the Celtic population to America, and the filling up of their ancient seats by a new "plantation" of Englishmen and Scotchmen. The London Times contemplates this result with great apparent satisfaction, and seeks to reconcile the departing exiles to their change of residence by the comforting assurance that America is the real home of their race. Considering what the condition of Ireland now is, as compared with what it was forty years ago, and considering, especially, the enormous advances it has made in material prosperity within the last ten years, the phenomenon which we are now witnessing, of this emigration of an entire people, famous for their strong local attachments, is one of the most remarkable in history. It is rendered all the more remarkable too, by the fact that, no matter how much political considerations may have done to set the stream flowing towards our shores fifty years ago, they have had little or nothing to do with the fullness and rapidity which mark it in our own day. We can no longer learn from stump orators or debating societies the real reason for the Irish peasant's quitting his home in the "old country." The political condition of the Irish Catholic has for some years ceased to be a whit worse than that of the English Protestant Dissenter. In some respects it is even better. He has supplied to him by the Government a good system of secular education for his children—a luxury which the Methodist and Congregational masses of Great Britain are not likely to enjoy for many a day; and of late he has enjoyed an amount of Government patronage which the English Dissenter need not hope for. A large proportion of the Irish Judges are Catholics, as well as the representatives of the present Government at the Bar. The best legal appointments in the colonies, still in the gift of the Crown, have been for the last ten years bestowed on Irishmen. Irish Catholics muster largely on the rolls of the local magistracy. They have begun to muster largely at the mess tables of the army. They fill the corporations of the cities almost exclusively; they are represented in the House of Commons by a compact and clamorous body, which knows how to make itself formidable to the strongest ministry that now-a-days ever finds itself in office. In fact, the tendency of all the liberal Administrations of England for many years past has been to visit on the Irish Protestants those measures of proscription from which their Catholic countrymen once suffered. It is well known in Dublin that with Whigs, or Peelites, or Radicals in office in Downing-street, a Protestant's chances of a "berth" or of promotion are almost as small as a Catholic's used to be forty years ago. The tremendous power which the Emancipation Act raised into existence—the power of a turbulent and ill-educated clergy over hosts of ignorant and fanatical voters—is a power which has to be conciliated at any cost. Even the "Protestant Conservatives," under the "chivalrous" Earl of DERBY, have succumbed to its might. At the general election which preceded the peace of Villafranca, the combination between the priests and the Tories, for the purpose of bringing about a coalition with Austria against France, for the protection of the Pope and the concordat, was made manifest at every hustings from the Giant's Causeway to Cape Clear. In short, as far as the relations of the Irish Catholic with the Government are concerned, he has only the Church establishment to complain of; and this burden, as we have said, is one which presses with equal weight on the shoulders of the English Dissenter. In all other respects he stands on the same footing as any other British subject. Habeas corpus and trial by jury are now his birthright; and as to the liberty of the Press, the Dublin Nation is astounding evidence that the Irish Press is the freest Press in the world. In no other country would a newspaper be allowed, as this is, to preach insurrection every week, and to make common cause, on every possible opportunity, with the bitterest foreign enemies of the Powers that be, without either receiving any notice from the law or the mob.

In short, Ireland is now furnishing on a great scale a striking proof of the worthlessness of political liberty, unless accompanied with security for property. The Irishman of to-day is amongst the freest men on earth, as far as laws can make him so. But the land laws are such that he is never sure either of continuing in his home, or of reaping the fruits of the labor he expends on his land. The vast mass of the tenantry are holders at the will of the landlord, and the barbarous relic of feudalism, which enables the owner of land to appropriate every improvement made on the soil by the toil of others, is maintained by the Courts in full vigor. The landlords will not grant leases, partly because it is not necessary in order to secure a high rent, and partly because they make the lessee politically independent on election day. More than this, the longest lease, even where leases are granted, comes to an end at last, and the man who has expended the best years of his life upon his farm, may find himself turned adrift with his family without a cent of compensation for the improvements of many years. To this evil—the worst of the "evils of Ireland"—the Incumbered Estates act has brought no remedy. The agitation for a "Tenant-Right bill" has been carried on for many years, and been regularly met by the victorious opposition of the landlords. Nor is the prospect of success at this moment any greater than ever. Under these circumstances, it is not surprising that the faces of the mass of the population should still be turned westward. Large numbers of them came here when Ireland was a worse place to live in than it is now. The remainder are following, because the greatest element of prosperity is still wanting. They seek a country in which the poorest is sure of being able to bequeath to his children the product of his toil and thrift, and in which his children have the highest prizes of life within as easy reach, as those of the wealthiest and best born. There is something unquestionably touching in the final disappearance of a people which has preserved its vitality, its hopes and hates through a struggle of six centuries. But any sentimental regret we may feel at seeing the "last of the Irish" absorbed into the turbid mass of American Democracy, is modified by the reflection that whatever of good such a long oppression has left in them must of necessity be more fruitful here than at home; that though the nation disappears, the individual men exchange the sober certainty of all that makes life valuable, for the sickly sorrows and fantastic hopes of a nation which owes its poorest privileges to the pity of its conquerors.

A Considerate Criminal.

ROBERT C. MCDONALD has saved the District-Attorney the trouble of filing those cross-interrogatories which he has been so long promising.

It is now nearly a year since this unfortunate man was committed to prison for the murder of VIRGINIA STEWART, and about eight months since a bill of indictment was found against him. In October last, his counsel obtained an order to examine witnesses for the defence, by commission, in New-Orleans, Mobile and elsewhere, and served copies of their interrogatories on the District-Attorney, who was directed to serve his cross-interrogatories within ten days thereafter. He has never done so, but has put the matter off from day to day on the plea of want of time. We find, however, that when his own schemes made it desirable to go on an electioneering trip to the Charleston Convention, he found no difficulty in appropriating a week to that purpose. The victim of this cruel and inexcusable delay has finally released everybody from all further trouble on his account by executing himself in prison.

The history of this whole case is one long and luminous illustration of the manner in which justice is administered in this City. A man murders a woman on Broadway in broad daylight. He is arrested, and a verdict of willful murder found against him by the Coroner's Jury. On his way to prison, the police-officers accompany him to a common brothel, where the whole party spend several hours in drinking champagne with prostitutes, and only reach the jail at 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning. The prisoner then lies in confinement nine months, because the public prosecutor "has not time" to attend to his case, though he has plenty of time to spend at electioneering caucuses a thousand miles away; and finally, whether in madness or in despair, we know not which, this ward of New-York Law is allowed to swallow poison in his cell, and so put an end at once to his own wretched life and to the anxieties of our overtasked District-Attorney.

Minor Topics.

—A letter from Paris tells a strange story of a recent discovery in science, culminating in a melancholy denouement. A governess in private families had under her charge a little Russian boy, who had been born deaf and dumb. The gentle disposition of the boy greatly endeared him to the governess, who devoted much of her time to developing his intelligence, and enabling him to keep pace with her other pupils. After many sleepless nights, and many experiments, the lady finally resolved that sulphuric ether was the talisman to be employed in opening the world to her poor little prisoner. Its application proved perfectly successful; numerous other experiments indicated that the grand secret had been discovered, the Monthyon Prize was awarded to the lady; and she rapidly rose from poverty and dependence to wealth, and fame as a benefactor of her race. But, alas! the sudden transition was too much for a mind so long overburdened by study and devotion to a single object; the reason of the poor lady gave way, and she has since been conveyed, a hopeless maniac, to a maison de santé, at Montmartre.

—The English papers are expressing fear that their members of Parliament will soon sink to the level of that rowdyism which characterizes American Congressmen. When we remember that the House of Commons and the House of Lords have always been well represented at the Prize Ring, the comparison becomes rather invidious to our Representatives. The difference between fighting Congressmen and legislating Lords who travel miles to see other people fight, turns not altogether to the advantage of the latter. When the dignitaries of the English Bar and the leaders of the English Press unite with princes of the Stock Exchange in showering golden testimonials of respect upon a prize-fighter, strictures from the English Press on American rowdyism savor sadly of Satan in a sermonizing vein.

—The London Times not unfrequently discourses to us upon Congressional courtesy. The following extract of proceedings in the Newfoundland Legislature we clip from an exchange, and offer to our London namesake as a better text, inasmuch as the subject is not foreign. Let the "Thunderer" devote a high-toned column or two to the admonishment of their provincial legislators:

> "In the House on Friday night, the Colonial Secretary, KENT, and Attorney-General HOGSETTS quarreled. The Colonial Secretary called Her Majesty's Attorney-General a puppy and a brat. The Speaker accused the Attorney-General of being drunk. The Attorney-General called the Speaker a liar. The scene was kept up till 1 o'clock Saturday morning."

—Those interested in the development of the Steam Plow will be interested to learn that a commencement has at last been made in the right direction, and a plow put to work on a prairie instead of playing at fairs and exhibitions. The Prairie Farmer says that seventy acres have been plowed by Mr. WATERS with his new invention, and that he has undertaken a larger contract. As the steam plow is yet in its infancy, to expect anything approaching perfection from it would be absurd, but it is decidedly encouraging to know that a practical result has been obtained, and work actually done.

—A German and an Irishman have lately had a whisky duel at Muskegan. They purchased a quantity of whisky, and sat down to drink on a wager, the wager to be won by the man that drank the greatest quantity. Had this alternative been the one chosen by POTTER, PRYOR would have been perfectly justified in turning tail. Tanglefoot whisky is more murderous than Bowie-knives. We forgot to state that it ended in the death of the Irishman.

—Morals must be in a deplorable state over the water. Eleven actions for seduction were tried before the assistant barrister, at Belfast, in one day. And female virtue seems to rule low in the English market, for while some of the cases were dismissed, and others compromised, the decrees awarded only ranged from £10 to £40. Paltry plasters, those, for blighted affections, ruined reputations and all that. We do things better in St. Louis.

—The Philadelphia Press declares its intention of supporting either DOUGLAS or nobody, irrespective of the choice of the Charleston Convention. As that body has settled on Nobody, one of the favorites of the Press, it is not probable that that paper will bolt.

Wallack's Theatre.

Mr. TOM TAYLOR's latest dramatic success is not his least. His comedy of the "Overland Route," which has been running in London ever since the beginning of February, and which began its career in New-York at Wallack's Theatre last night, is the most ingenious and creditable piece of work he has given us since "Still Waters Run Deep."

The Anglo-Indian world, as it is, and has become since the yellow-faced, white-whiskered nabobs of the old-fashioned comedy died out of real life, has never before been put upon the stage. Southampton steamers, Alexandrian railways, and the Bombay fleet of the Peninsula and Oriental Company have called into existence a small universe of incidents and characters quite their own. Upon this universe Mr. TAYLOR, with happy audacity, has laid his hand, and the result is the "Overland Route."

The plot of this comedy is light enough for tropical weather. It is pleasingly involved, without being in the least obscure; and sufficiently quaint without being particularly original. Dashing adventurers and lovely flirts being the most salient social traits of the Indian journey, the "Overland Route" obliges us with an abundance of dash, adventure and flirtation. Tom Dexter (Mr. LESTER) is the pivot of the piece, who combines, in his own person, all that can attract the admiration of women, with all that can command the esteem of men. He is a hero in war, and a physician in peace; relieving the pangs of seasickness, rescuing Lascars from a watery grave, and improving the moral tone of giddy beauties with unflagging spirit and unfailing success. Mrs. Seabright (Mrs. HOEY) and Mrs. Lovibond (Miss MARY GANNON) are two imaginary widows, who carry out the part with a fidelity to nature which would have thrown the elder Mr. Weller into a cold perspiration. About these principals, plays a constellation of types: all verging, in point of treatment, upon the caricature, but all touched with something of that truth of feeling which makes the caricatures of DOYLE or JOHN LEECH more expressively faithful to their originals than any photograph. Mr. LESTER dashes at the part of Tom Dexter perhaps with a somewhat over-elastic step; but the house "came down" last night with unfeigned delight at his airy eccentricities of unexpected nobleness. Mrs. HOEY was admirable in her rôle of a virtuous coquette, and Miss GANNON gushing as a repentant shrew. Mr. WALCOT as Lovibond, a wretched man, who suddenly finds himself called upon in the middle of the Persian Gulf to choose between being arrested as a forger and being reunited to a wife from whom he has been running away with all his might for seven years, is extremely good. His picture of sea-sickness hits the delicate line between the distressing and the disgusting, and provoked well-merited applause. Mr. BLAKE and Mr. DYOTT have two conspicuous but rather conventional rôles to fill, and fill them effectively. Mr. BROUGHAM, as a hectoring bully, is less fortunate, both in his material and his manufacture. Mr. FLOYD makes himself deplorably vapid as Captain Clavering, a military snob of the second water; and Mr. YOUNG touches the trivial character of Limpet, a "European servant," with his usual fidelity and force.

The play is excellently put upon the stage; and the scenic effects are what the prophetic play-bills declared they would be, "extremely novel." A play which carries you from the saloon of a great ocean-steamer to a deck lighted up with the warm shimmering light of an Arabian sunset sky, and thence to a coral reef in the Red Sea, is certainly a new thing beyond the footlights. And all this the "Overland Route" does; and thanks to Mr. WALLACK's management, with so much ease and taste and judgment as wholly to subordinate the melodramatic effects to the comic interest of the play. The ocean scenery of the second and third acts is singularly good; and the difficult problem of so wrecking a ship on the stage as not to make the spectators think of a broken-down omnibus is more happily solved in the finale of the second act than we have ever before seen it. The theatre was crowded with a true "Wallack's audience," and clamorous with satisfaction; and we can see no reason why the vogue of the "Overland Route" should not last as long as a trip to India itself.

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

FROM THE PACIFIC.

ARRIVAL OF THE OVERLAND EXPRESS.

Adjournment of the Legislature—Mining Intelligence—The Crops—Markets—Shipping.

ST. JOSEPHS, Monday, May 14.

The California Pony Express arrived here at 1 o'clock this morning, with California dates to May 5, Oregon to April 28, and British Columbia to the 30th.

The crops in California are considered sadly damaged, from heavy storms of rain and hail.

The Legislature adjourned April 30th. The principal General Acts passed were to enable certain counties to create debts for railroad purposes, subject to a vote of the people of the counties concerned. If the people so vote, the total of the debts will be about $1,500,000. So far, $78,000 for the suppression of Indian hostilities in the northern part of the State during the past year; to pay $278,000 in liquidation of the State pension claims, leaving that institution self-sustaining; to submit to a vote of the people whether a Convention shall be called to revise the State Constitution; to grant the right of way to the San Francisco and Los Angelos Telegraph Company; to appropriate $100,000 to aid the trans-continental Telegraph lines. The appropriations for ordinary State purposes exceed $1,000,000 covering the fiscal year. The funds in the State Treasury, after paying the State Prison and Indian War claims, will be about $230,000. The favorite objects of the majority of the Legislature were defeated by the Governor's veto, or by his withholding his approach on the last day of the session. These were the San Francisco Bulkhead Bill, a bill appropriating $250,000 for building nine wagon roads over the mountains to the Washoe mines; an act amending the law of libel, permitting newspapers to be sued for libel in any county of the State, irrespective of the residence of the plaintiff or defendant; an act providing for the issue of $300,000 Indian War bonds, payable by the State in 1870, unless Congress should sooner redeem them. This heavy responsibility assumed by Gov. DOWNEY has been the subject of general remark. The majority of the people appear to heartily sustain the vetoes. In all the principal towns of the State guns are fired in honor of the veto of the Bulkhead bill scheme, which was regarded as an immense monopoly and tax on commerce. San Francisco was illuminated in honor of the veto on the night of May 1.

The Pony Express, with St. Joseph letters of April 20, arrived at Carson Valley at 20 minutes past 1 on the 28th—from telegraph station to telegraph station, 8 days and 4 hours. The pony reached San Francisco at 6 P. M. on the 29th inst.

News is received that twenty camels from Siberia, Russia, will arrive at San Francisco about Midsummer, and be used instead of mules for mountain express and freight business between California and Salt Lake.

An apparently well authenticated rumor prevails that the ROTHSCHILDS have sent out an agent from London to examine the Washoe silver mines.

The Ophir Company, owning a part of the original lead at Washoe, have organized with a capital stock of $7,000,000. Capt. DOLL has been elected Superintendent of operations at the mines, and has just returned from there. He reports that the mine can be made to yield $1,500,000 per month this Summer.

The Placerville and St. Joseph's telegraph line is being extended eastward, and its Superintendent states it will be in working order, 45 miles east of Carson City, during the present month.

Two tons of copper ore have arrived at Carson City for shipment to San Francisco. It pays from 49 to 50 per cent. The new mines, where it was obtained, are in Del Norte County, and it costs $15 per ton to transport the ore to the nearest seaport. About 100 tons of ore had already been taken from the mine, and the quantity easily obtained is said to be almost inexhaustible.

Oregon and British Columbia dates are to the 28th ult., to the former, and the latter to the 30th ult.

The political campaign of Oregon opened at Portland on the 28th, by a mass meeting of the Democracy, which was addressed by GEORGE K. SHIELDS, candidate for Congress. The Methodist Conference.

TWELFTH DAY—MORE FRATERNAL INTERCHANGES—PETITION FOR A CHANGE IN THE RULES RELATING TO SLAVERY.

BUFFALO, Monday, May 14.

Rev. Dr. STINSON, President of the Canada Wesleyan Conference, was introduced to the Conference, and presented an address, which was read and referred. Dr. STINSON afterwards addressed the Conference in an eloquent manner. He was followed by Rev. Mr. HURLBURT, a co-delegate from the same Conference.

The call of Conferences was resumed.

A petition was presented from the John-street Church of New-York, praying for aid for its permanent endowment, it being the first Methodist Episcopal Church on this Continent. Referred to a Special Committee of five.

A resolution was offered providing for the insertion of a rule into the discipline regulating the election by the General Conference of all book agents, editors, and the corresponding secretary of the Missionary Society.

Twenty-three petitions were presented in favor of a change of the Slavery rule, and but one against it.

Dr. CLARKE, from the Committee on Missions, reported, recommending the appropriation of $2,000 for a printing press, &c., to the favorable consideration of the Managers of the Missionary Board; also, recommending the memorial for a paper in the Danish language at Racine; also, in favor of amending the discipline so as to authorize the appointment of a treasurer for the Missionary Board by the Bishops; also, in favor of constituting an Annual Conference in Judea; also, recommending an increase of appropriations for domestic missions in the Northwestern Conferences; also, against any division of the foreign and domestic missions—all adopted.

Mr. CRANE, from the Court of Appeals, reported in favor of restoring Rev. Mr. CREEVEY, who had been expelled from the New-York Conference, to full connection; thus reversing the decision of the Annual Conference. The report was adopted.

The Committee on Revisals were instructed to inquire into the expediency of amending the discipline so as make colored preachers members of quarterly Conferences, where the laws of the State do not forbid.

The Committee on Itinerancy was instructed to inquire whether the Philadelphia Conference had passed on the character of Mr. QUINN, a slaveholder, and whether the said Conference had appointed any slaveholders to official membership, in violation of the discipline. A resolution of inquiry into the expediency of giving to deacons, having pastoral charges, authority to consecrate the elements of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, was rejected after a warm debate.

THE WEST INDIES.

News from the Windward Islands.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

Bridgetown, Barbados, Tuesday, April 10, 1860.

In a letter, dated some eight or ten days ago, I informed you of the death of Mr. Towner, the American Consul at this port. I repeat the announcement, for letters sent by sailing vessels do not always reach their destination. The Consul died suddenly of inflammation.

Quite a number of American vessels have entered the port of Bridgetown to-day and yesterday, viz.: The barks Reindeer and Montezuma, from New-York; the brigantine C. Hopkins, from Baltimore; the schooner Minerva, from Jacksonville, and the three-masted schooner Napoleon, from Georgetown, S. C. The Reindeer, on her passage out, took from the British brig Dominica, laden with sugar and bound from Dominica to London, the Captain and six of the crew. The Dominica was on fire.

There is very little news from this island. The Colonial Secretary, Mr. Walker, left about a week since for Trinidad, where he is to administer the Government in the absence of a very unpopular Governor. An act has just passed the Barbadian Legislature authorizing a loan for the new water works company. In a few months Bridgetown will be fully supplied with pure water—a luxury which those who have never lived in a tropical country cannot rightly appreciate. Hitherto the people of Bridgetown have lived on rain-water. There have been shipped from this island to date, 9,110 hhds., 702 tierces and 1,718 bbls. sugar. The young cane crop is healthy, but low—wanting rain badly.

The two packet steamers—one from Demerara and the other from Trinidad, St. Vincent and Grenada—arrived last evening. They bring no news of importance. An official Demerara paper says that the three last cargoes of coolie laborers, returning home at the expense of the colony, carried away in money $70,000—all of which they had saved as daily laborers. The Demerara planters are insane on the subject of immigration, and the papers confine their remarks to this single subject. They recently picked up the information (where, it would be difficult to say) that, in consequence of the Harper's Ferry invasion, 200,000 negroes had been expelled from the Southern States; and they are now greatly concerned to find out how these people can be induced to go to British Guiana. From Trinidad another arrival of captured Africans is reported. From Grenada we learn that the American schooner Triumph has opened a brisk fruit trade between that island and New-York. The schooner is now loading with red bananas, pines, &c., for her second trip. Another vessel, in the same business, is expected to arrive in a month.

With the exception of Barbados, in which small-pox is epidemic, the health of the islands is generally good,—that is to say, yellow fever is not decimating the inhabitants at this particular moment.

THE OLD DOMINION.

Anniversary of the Settlement of Jamestown, Va.—Address by Mr. Geo. W. Summers.

The "Old Dominion Society," an association of residents of this City who are Virginians either by birth or parentage, held their first anniversary celebration last evening in the Cooper Institute. The hall was barely more than filled to one-third of its capacity. The particular event which the meeting was meant to commemorate was the settlement, on the 13th of May, 1607, of Jamestown, Va., by the English. Mr. Wm. M. Peyton occupied the chair.

Rev. Wm. J. Hoguе said the introductory prayer, in closing which he implored Providence to contribute to the elevation and union of these now united and prosperous American States.

Mr. Geo. W. Summers, as orator of the occasion, was hailed, on his introduction by the President, with enthusiastic plaudits.

In the first place, he alluded to the motives of local attachment and conservative feeling which had led to the organization of the Society, saying that the event which the celebration was designed to keep in memory was one remote alike from partisan politics and sectarian religion. He proceeded to vindicate the entertainment of ancestral pride as a legitimate indulgence, and then to trace the history of his State from the time when Queen Elizabeth of England, impressed with the representations made by Sir Walter Raleigh of its physical beauties and commercial resources, gave the Colony in her own honor the name of Virginia, until the time when it declared its independence, and aided, both by its examples of heroism and statesmanship, to effect the independence of the whole Thirteen. The history of John Smith, by whom the first white settlement was made, was traced in detail. Smith, it appears, had been, before his arrival here, a volunteer for the war in Transylvania, and subsequently, in compliance with the wishes of a London Company, by whom a patent had been obtained from James I., the then reigning monarch, conducted a band of emigrants to a spot on the Powhatan, which, in honor of the King, was called Jamestown. That occurred 109 years after the discovery by Cabot, 40 years after the discovery by Florentine, and 13 years before the landing of the New-England colonists at Plymouth. The early annals of the Jamestown Colony, though scanty in detail, showed that the people were subjected to much trial and suffering. They had arrived too late in the season to rely for support upon tillage. Their only hope of safety was in the courage and endurance of Smith, who was thence emphatically styled "The Father of Virginia."

Having alluded in brief to Smith's relations with Pocahontas and the events which led to them, to her conversion to Christianity, her voyage to England, her introduction there to the most fashionable society under the auspices of Lady Delaware, and her death, Mr. Summers went on to give his impressions of the red race in general. He said they were in the main a barbaric people, subtle, cruel and perfidious; prone to adopt the vices of the white man and to repudiate his virtues. Their removal was only due to the law of periodical succession, and it was but mawkish sentimentalism to deplore it. This land was never designed for the abode of savages. Like the extinct animals of a lower organization found in the earlier strata, they must give place to the higher that now exist on this.

The character of the first emigrants, was not such he observed, as suited the requirements of the new colony. They were mostly men who had been hanging around the corners of the streets of London, and there was not a woman among them.

In narrating the successive steps by which the colony was driven into rebellion, Mr. Summers alluded to many interesting facts. The earliest written recognition of a General Assembly was to be found, he said, in the Records and Constitution of such a body, dated July 24, 1621. As an evidence of the early exhibition of a free Republican spirit on the part of the people, here-ferred to the ordinance and Constitution of 1688, in which it was asserted, on the part of the General Assembly, that the Colony should have a free suffrage, "trial by rule," and the common law rights of England. The first legislative assembly ever held in America was held in Jamestown, nearly a year before the Pilgrims made their appearance in Plymouth. In 1624 the Company by whom the Colony was founded was dissolved. In the next year, James I. having died, Charles, his son, succeeded him, and the Colony became, in fact, an appendage of the Crown. Tobacco now grew to be the staple article of its commerce. Provisions were purchased by it, and, in fact, wives were purchased by the same commodity. Among the other statutes passed at that period, one contained the declaration: "And, whereas, God has beneficently vouchsafed a great increase of children to this Colony," &c.

The speaker proceeded to show that the situation of the colonists of Virginia, as a rural people, living by the cultivation of the fields, exposed to the murderous attacks of Indians—ever on the alert, and roving at will through the woods—developed a certain freedom of opinion and independence of action. Love of the country was a pervading sentiment of the Virginians to this day. It had been said that New-England loved money, and came to the city to make it. The Virginian went into the country. Unlike New-Englanders, the Virginians had not were driven to this country by religious persecutions. They were not, therefore, a bigoted people. Though some of their statutes were harsh in their letter, they were not so in their enactment. To the credit of the State, they were never inforced. The invitation to the persecuted New-Englanders, by which they offered them a shelter, showed that the Virginians had no very strict ideas of orthodoxy.

Mr. Summers vindicated the colonists from the charge of subserviency to Charles I., and contended that the Colony throve throughout his reign; told how, under Cromwell, the interior of the State was settled by Scotch-Irish emigrants and Huguenots; how James II. sent ship-loads of convicts to it, chiefly through the instrumentality of the bloody Jeffreys, because of their complicity in the Monmouth Rebellion; how the Order of the Golden Horse-shoe was instituted, its motto being "Sic juvat ascendere montes;" and how, in fine, Virginia had given the earliest impulses to the Revolution, in the persons of Patrick Henry and Thomas Jefferson, and that other still more honored, who, under God, was the instrument by whom the struggle for freedom was conducted to a happy termination. [Cheers.] She had discharged her duty, and her whole duty to the Union, and, by a faith inspired by the past, and by every attribute of her character, we might promise that she would perform it to the last. [Applause.]

Invitation.—Rev. Dennis Watman, of Fishkill, has been invited to take charge of the Dutch Reformed Church on Bushwick, near Lafayette-avenue.

Railroad Cases—The Law of Damages.—The Troy Budget says: "In the several railroad cases recently decided by the Supreme Court at the General Term in this District, the principle has been established that in actions for negligently causing the death of parties by collision, the question whether the injured party by his own negligence contributed to produce the result is a question of fact, which must be submitted to the jury under proper instructions from the Court. In one of the cases recently passed upon, the plaintiff recovered a verdict at the Rensselaer Circuit for $4,000. Judge Gould set aside this verdict, and ordered a new trial, on the ground that the plaintiff should have been non-suited, it appearing that the negligence of the deceased contributed to the injury. The General Term, however, after full argument, overruled the decision of Mr. Justice Gould, and directed a judgment upon the verdict, thus establishing the principle above referred to. Two similar cases were tried before Judge Gould, who nonsuited the plaintiff, and in each case the General Term reversed the decision and granted a new trial. This principle may now be regarded as settled in this district, though it is proper to add that Judge Gould dissents.

THE LATEST AND MOST RELIABLE AND AUTHENTIC WORK ON JAPAN.

OLIPHANT'S CHINA AND JAPAN.

LORD ELGIN'S

MISSION TO

CHINA AND JAPAN.

Narrative of the Earl of Elgin's Mission to China and Japan, in the Years 1857, '58, '59. By Laurence Oliphant, Esq., Private Secretary to Lord Elgin, Author of the "Russian Shores of the Black Sea," &c., &c. Illustrations. 8vo, Muslin, $2 75; Half Calf, $3 75.

The successful excursion of the embassador to Japan is beyond all comparison the most curious and important addition yet made to our knowledge of that most remarkable country.—Edinburgh Review.

This account of the Mission to Japan is absorbingly interesting. The work must attract every reader who cares to note, under the guidance of an accomplished traveler, the manners and customs of two Eastern empires not more unlike the rest of the world than they are contrasts one to another.—London Athenæum.

One of the most solidly interesting and instructive books of travels which have appeared for some time.—London Critic.

Mr. Oliphant's descriptions of what he saw at Nagasaki, at Simoda, and at Jeddo are in the highest degree curious and entertaining. His observations confirm in a remarkable manner the glowing accounts of Japanese civilization given by all previous writers, from old Kœmpfer to Golownin.—London Leader and Saturday Analyst.

FACTS.

In this paper we present to the public unimpeachable testimony establishing the facts that RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, REGULATING PILLS, and RENOVATING RESOLVENT, are not only positive curatives of the sick afflicted with disease, but that they have in many cases proved to be infallible, and have restored the dying patient to robust health after all other means of medication failed.

FOURTEENTH WITNESS.

Small Pox—Liver Complaint.—Elijah West, Hokah, Minnesota, testifies:

Last Spring I was seized with the small pox, and was cured by the use of Radway's Ready Relief and Regulating Pills. I was afterwards taken with the liver complaint, (which complaint I have been subject to for many years) I used no other medicine for this last attack but Radway's Ready Relief, Resolvent and Pills. These medicines have made a complete cure. I still continue the use of the Pills. They help me to gain strength daily.

R. R Relief, 25c., 50c., and $1 per bottle.

Regulating Pills, 25c. per box.

Resolvent, $1 per bottle.

PERSONAL CHARMS.—THE AMERICAN ladies are celebrated not less for their delicate beauty than for its early and premature decay. How important, then, to make use of the means which science has provided to arrest the pernicious effects of our changeable climate, and preserve the complexion clear and beautiful, in spite of deleterious influences. BURNETT'S KALLISTON, only prepared by JOSEPH BURNETT & CO., Boston, will be found to accomplish this result. For sale by all dealers, at 50 cents per bottle. See advertisements in another column.

REMOVAL—PROGRESS.

The DAY-BOOK establishment, in obedience to the demands of an increasing business and circulation, is this day removed from No. 40 Ann-st. to more commodious quarters, at No. 162 Nassau-street, opposite the City Hall. We have now one of the most public and central locations in the City, and being in the immediate vicinity of all the large newspaper offices, we trust our City patrons may find our removal to contribute to their convenience, while our out of town friends will certainly hereafter have no excuse for not being able to find the DAY-BOOK OFFICE.

The DAY-BOOK has become one of the features, and, we may say, one of the necessities of the country. We do not propose to say much either of the past or the future, but will leave a few facts and figures to speak for themselves. Two years ago the WEEKLY DAY-BOOK had only 20,000 circulation; now it has over 40,000, and is constantly increasing. In the meantime, the EVENING DAY-BOOK has also nearly doubled. Two years ago we had neither a printing-press, engine nor press-room of our own. Now we have two cylinder presses, and sufficient driving power to propel them. For all this we have to thank neither politicians, Presidents or other officials. The DAY-BOOK hoes its own row, and owes no man a dollar. Its proprietors strive to deal honestly, fairly and truly with all public questions, and then rely upon the People for support and encouragement. This has been generous, and it shall not be our fault if it be not deserved. We shall continue to expend all we receive from our patrons in making the DAY-BOOK a better newspaper, until it is the equal, if not superior, of any published. We have now the largest circulation of any weekly newspaper in New-York, excepting only one. We challenge any one to gainsay this assertion. In order to show where the WEEKLY DAY-BOOK circulates, we give below a list of the number of Post-offices in each State to which we are now sending papers:

We would remind advertisers that our terms for the Weekly Day-Book are fifteen cents per line each insertion, thus affording a cheaper medium for reaching the public, considering the circulation, than that furnished by any other journal.

The Evening Day-Book, we are also pleased to say, was never in so flourishing a condition as at present. Its circulation is not exceeded by any evening paper except one. Its advertising patronage is liberal, but it ought to be much more, for the advantages it offers are equal, and in some respects superior, to those presented by any other journal. If industry and perseverance will overcome obstacles, we intend the Evening Day-Book shall be second to no paper of its class, and its proprietors respectfully appeal to all friends of the Union and the Constitution as they are, for that encouragement in the future which a generous support in the past has given them reason to safely anticipate.

PURIFY THE BLOOD.

MOFFAT'S LIFE PILLS AND PHŒNIX BITTERS.

The best family medicine now before the public for the cure of Scrofula, Ulcers, Scurvy, or Eruptions of the Skin, Bilious and Liver Complaints, Fever and Ague, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Piles, and in fact most all diseases yield to their curative properties. By their use the blood is restored to a healthy state and freed from all impurities. The system is not reduced during the operation, but invigorated, and they require no restraint from business or pleasure. Prepared by WM. B. MOFFAT, M. D., No. 335 Broadway N. Y., and sold by all druggists.

FEVER AND AGUE! FEVER AND AGUE! FEVER AND AGUE!—Emigrants and others who remove to the Western part of the United States, complain in bitter terms of the fatal diseases that prevail in those sections. Some of the most intelligent physicians bear testimony to this fact. Dickens, the Shakespeare of this age, in picturing "Little Eden," a Western settlement, in a book entitled "Martin Chuzzlewit," says that the most flourishing institution was the Fever and Ague, which had killed all who attempted to make a permanent residence of it. Mark Tapley, who could only be jolly under gloomy circumstances, said that Fever and Ague had given him cause for more jollity than he would like to experience again. Dr. HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED BITTERS is the only cure for this terrible disease that we would recommend to the public. Try them, and be convinced of their power.

For sale by druggists and dealers generally everywhere.

ROSES, VERBENAS, DAHLIAS AND other Summer flowering plants of the most beautiful varieties from the garden daily, at our usual low prices, carefully packed to ship to any distance.

FIRST-CLASS STEAM FORGE FOR SALE—Will be sold at public sale, at 2 P. M., on the 28th day of May, 1860, at the public house of Wm. L. De Borbon, in the City of Reading, the property known as the Reading Steam Forge in the said city. Said forge is substantially built, and completely equipped with all the modern improvements, including a 7-ton Nasmyth steam hammer and three like steam hammers, each with heating-furnaces and boilers attached. A tire-bending machine and oven; three puddling-furnaces, five blacksmiths' forges, two thirty-ton cranes, one largest class boring mill, slotting machine, turning lathe and sixty horse engine. Main building [illegible] feet, with sheet-iron roof; a carpenter shop and brick office, with fire-proof, &c., on the premises, which contain over 2½ acres. Said Forge is most conveniently located for business adjoining the Reading Railroad, and so connected therewith that locomotives can take away and deliver cars of iron, coal and other freight without cost for hauling. Shutes run outside the building by which coal, scrap iron, &c., can be dumped close to each furnace, without extra cost for hauling or labor. This Forge is capable of executing the heaviest work, having forged and finished the main shafts of the Adriatic (believed to be the largest ever made,) besides complete sets of forgings for numerous steamships for Government and other. The city of Reading presents peculiar advantages for the successful operation of such a forge. It is within 58 miles of Philadelphia, connected therewith by the Reading Railroad, and the Schuylkill (280 ton) Canal, 128 miles by rail direct from New-York; 136 from Baltimore, 54 from Harrisburgh and 54 from the Schuylkill coal region, whence the best anthracite coal can be placed at the furnace doors for about $2 25 per ton. Reading is situated in one of the finest agricultural districts of Pennsylvania, has a population of 25,000, and is noted for its general health and the purity of its water. As Berks County contains more furnaces than any other in the United States, iron of every description can be procured by the forge at the lowest prices. Title clear of all incumbrance. Possession given immediately, and terms made easy, to suit purchasers. The Forge is in complete order, and is furnished with every necessary tool and appurtenance to commence work immediately on taking possession. It is a property well worth the attention of those engaged in the above business. For any further information, apply to

A GOOD THING, THAT EVERYBODY should have: HUMPHREYS' SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC REMEDIES stand confessedly at the head of remedial means for the use of the people. They are alike removed from the poisonous, dangerous and repulsive doses of quackery, or Old School practice; the inconvenience of Water Cure, or the intricate and perplexing obscurities of the usual Homeopathic books and medicines. Consisting of simple specifics for the various diseases to which they are related—put up in the form of simple sugar pellets—and prepared of ingredients neither dangerous nor disgusting, they are the ready aid of the parent or nurse, and the comfort of the complaining and invalid.

They possess these positive advantages: They are harmless; no injury can arise from their use. They are simple; you always know what to take, and how to take it. They are convenient; you can give the proper Sugar Pills at a moment's warning, without hesitation or delay. They are efficient; in thousands of cases disease is arrested at once, and the system freed without prostration or delay.

BARROW, No. 194 Bleecker st., (four doors from Macdougal st.,) New-York, where he may be confidentially consulted, as usual, from 11 till 2 and from 4 till 8 in the evening; on Sundays from 11 till 2. Triesemar No. 1 effectually removes general and local debility, premature decay, spermatorrhœa and all the distressing consequences of excess; all physical impediments vanish like magic before its influence, thus rendering it invaluable to those about being married; even in the decline of life its invigorating powers are astonishing. Triesemar No. 3 entirely eradicates all impurities from the system; is most excellent in secondary symptoms, thus obviating the necessity of mercury or other deleterious mineral. Triesemar Nos. 1, 2, & 3, being in the form of an agreeable lozenge, is portable, and may be taken with the utmost facility while traveling by sea or land. Single case, $3; 4 cases in 1, $9; or in $27 cases, thereby saving $9. Forwarded by Dr. BARROW, on receiving a remittance, from No. 194 Bleecker-st., N. Y. DR. MAGNIN'S LUCINA CORDIAL, OR ELIXIR OF LOVE.—This delightful and positive invigorant of the human system is fast superseding all other remedies; in fact when its virtues become fully known it will be the only remedy in use. Its action on the nervous system and reproductive organs is most extraordinary, allaying all over excitement, and infusing into the nervous organization that degree of tension which is requisite to give the human system the enjoyment of its full powers, both mentally and physically. As an appetizer it is equally remarkable; assimilated with the gastric juices of the stomach, it assists them in more readily dissolving all nutritious substances and converting them into pure and wholesome blood; thus the digestion is improved, and the whole frame-work of man moves on in a more vigorous and harmonious manner thereby. Price $3 per bottle, or two bottles for $5. Principal office No. 203 Fulton-st., New-York.

DR. COOPER, NO. 14 DUANE-STREET, so well known to the victims of delicate diseases as the most successful practitioner in New York, in the treatment of this complaint, is still to be found at the old office, which he has occupied for the last 28 years. He can safely promise to all who need medical attendance a permanent cure, no matter of how long standing the case may be. The victims of misplaced confidence who have been misled by quack advertisements, can call on Dr. C. with the certainty of being radically cured. N. B.—Dr. C. is a qualified Physician and Surgeon and a member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New-York.

THE CONFESSIONS AND EXPERIENCE OF A VICTIM—Designed for the benefit, and as a warning and a caution to young men who suffer from Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, &c., as a consequence of early errors, supplying the means of self-Cure by one who cured himself after having been put to great expense through medical imposition and quackery. Single copies may be had of the author, NATHANIEL MAYFAIR, Esq., East Brooklyn, Kings County, N. Y., by inclosing a post-paid, addressed envelope.

AN ACT OF GRATITUDE.—20,000 COPIES of a Medical Book for gratuitous circulation, by a sufferer, who has been effectually cured of nervous debility, loss of memory and dimness of sight, resulting from early errors, by following the instructions given in a medical work, considers it his duty, in gratitude to the author and for the benefit of consumptive and nervous sufferers, to publish the means used. He will, therefore, send free to any address, on receipt of two stamps, a copy of the work, containing every information required. Address Box No. 579 P. O., Albany, N. Y.

HUNDREDS OF THE UNFORTUNATE have been disappointed of a cure by not calling on Dr. HUNTER at first. The Hunterian Dispensary, No. 3 Division-st., New-York City, established in 1834, for the Preservation of Human Life. PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—Dr. Hunter has for thirty years confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated not less than fifty thousand cases without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures, in new cases, in less than six hours. It roots out the poisonous taint the blood is sure to absorb, unless this remedy is used. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st. Book for nothing, that treats of the evil effects of early abuse and indulgence, is embellished with elaborate colored engravings, portraying every feature and phase of disease, exposes the fallacy of the ordinary modes adopted for the cure of local as well as hereditary maladies, and gives the only safe and infallible remedy for expunging every trace of the virus from the system.

CALIFORNIA GOSSIP.

The Washoe Excitement—The Silver Mines no Humbug—Astonishing Yields—Governor Downey's Vote of the Bulkhead Bill—Cash Value of Women.

From Our Own Correspondent.

SAN FRANCISCO, Friday, April 20, 1860.

Want of time has compelled me to omit my usual communications for your paper the last few mails, and after a hard day's work I sit down now to give you a few items.

This has been what might truly be termed a "tight steamer day." Money scarce and collections light, and it has been harder scratching to meet engagements than at any time for the past six months. It is generally admitted that the silver fever, or, as we term it, the Washoe fever, has had much to do with it, there has been such a mania for investing in the numerous claims of Carson Valley. All the ready cash has found its way up to the head-quarters of the excitement, (Carson City and Virginia City,) and been invested in speculations in that quarter. I suppose you are all on the qui vive to hear whether these mines have fizzled out and proved a humbug. Well, they have not; on the contrary, every day developes the unparalleled richness of the various claims, particularly on the "Comstock Lead."

It is pretty much of a fixed fact that the whole country in that region is exceedingly rich in metals. Outcroppings of silver and gold ore, assaying from $200 to $2,000 per ton, have been found all about the valley this side of the mountain range, as well as the other side, where the rich veins are being worked. There has been a sale or two of stock in the Ophir Company since I last wrote. One twenty-fourth or 58⅓ feet was sold at $35,000 cash. A few days later a similar share at $45,000 on 30 days, and yesterday a "ninety-sixth" or 14⅔ feet for $10,000 cash. $800 per foot is freely offered and as freely refused. The fact is, it is only by offering an awful price that a single foot can be had. The Mexican Company, owning 100 feet in the Ophir Company's ground, being what was the third hundred feet of their claim, (given to the Mexican for a water privilege,) are taking out large quantities of ore, and have commenced packing it down on mules until such time as the roads improve. The Ophir Company are about to commence work with a strong force, and expect to send down from 100 to 150 tons per month. The ore now coming out averages $4,000 per ton. That from the Mexican claim about $2,000, but in the latter they have a vein four feet thick.

I was commissioned by a capitalist here to offer Mr. MALDINADO, the owner of 50 feet of the 100, the snug little sum of one hundred thousand, his reply to it was—taking a letter out of his pocket and showing me wherein he was offered and refused one hundred and twenty-five thousand cash. I "wilted." I know parties here who are willing to give him one hundred and fifty. I wish JOHN CARRINGTON, the skeptical editor and proprietor of the "Commissionaire," to note that item, inasmuch as he has amused himself and his readers poking fun at the subscriber, in saying the TIMES correspondent had dug out and put in his cellar about a thousand tons of ore worth ten thousand dollars a ton. It's a "sell," and JOHN CARRINGTON is the seller, (cellar,) where all that ore came from—but he can't help it; he can't help telling fish stories—it is the effect of association. He goes down on Long Island every Summer with NED. B. and gets into very bad habits.

Everybody hereabouts seem to be going crazy on the silver-mining question, and although the snows are still upon the mountains, the roads almost impassable, and provisions scarce and high, from fifty to a hundred people are leaving daily for this new Eldorado, taking with them all the money they can scrape together to invest there. The living is represented to be of the hardest kind, and shelter almost impossible to obtain; $2 a meal for starvation diet, and a like sum for the privilege of spreading a blanket on earth floors several inches deep with slush and mud is freely paid, and the worst kind of hardships endured—all for the sake of making money, and they don't all do it, by any means. "Outside claims," as all claims are called not on the Comstock Lead, are advancing in price, and locations that were selling at $5 per foot six weeks ago are now selling at from $100 to $300 per foot. In some of them very rich ore has been found, and when the snow is fairly melted, and the work of prospecting commences in good earnest there will, doubtless, be as rich ore struck as any yet taken out from the original Comstock Lead, from which some 150 odd tons have been taken and sent down here for smelting. The horrible state of the roads have prevented the transporting of the ore now out, as the present rate is 13 cents per pound, and very little can be got off at that rate, and what has already come down this month (some 25 tons) was packed on mules and was two weeks coming.

Great preparations are being made to work the ore here, instead of shipping it abroad, and every other man fancies he has a process by which he can extract the metal, and all the ore yet worked by smelting and otherwise has fallen far short of the yield quoted from the same ore sent to England and France. The expense of working it by smelting is too expensive, on account of the cost of coal and high price of labor. Some three tons that came down last week from the Ophir Mine has been crushed and distributed, to enable the company to see where and how the metal can be extracted, and at the least price. One ton is being smelted here, by a firm embarked in the business; two other lots are being put through other processes, one by condensed steam, another by the Bartolo method; three-fourths of a ton, shipped by this steamer to New-York, to be sent to France, if the parties think it advisable; and half a ton to London. So we shall soon know how and where it can best be worked. Eight tons more will arrive from the Ophir Mine to-morrow. The Mexican Company have now about 15 tons on hand here, being crushed. The general feeling among the stockholders is for working it here, and not ship it abroad. The ore cannot well be smelted at the mine on account of the scarcity of fuel. The agents of ERICSSON's Caloric Engines are about making a contract with the Ophir Company to place a double 24-inch engine at the mine, to keep it free from water, hoist, run stampers for crushing, &c. The only obstacle is the expense and difficulty of getting the engine over the mountains at this time, as the freight alone would cost $2,000, on account of the dreadful state of the roads.

Since last writing, further investigation has proved that the Ophir Company have a continuous vein for over 500 feet; a shaft having been sunk that distance from the present one, they struck the vein as rich in quality, and three feet thick of blue sulphurets,—and it is now a fixed fact that they have the vein 60 feet deep (the depth the shaft is now carried from which ore is being taken) and 500 feet in length, and some 900 feet not yet tried. But a company owning a claim beyond the Ophir claim, that is to say, 1,400 feet from the first shaft, have struck the vein, and $400 per foot is offered and refused; two weeks ago it was selling at $50 per foot, the vein not then having been struck.

On the whole, it looks now as if these mines could furnish all the silver the world will require for the next two years. It will soon be common, and we shall see silver teaspoons in everybody's mouth. But notwithstanding we have such rich silver mines, the gold mines at Jacksonville, (recently discovered, throw silver into the shade. I saw, to-day, some 800 pounds of quartz, from the "Ish Mine," worth $12,000! and the proprietor showed a friend of mine a letter from his son, wherein he speaks of their cleaning up the result of two days' labor, with their rude and imperfect means of working it, and he says: "Dad, I bagged just 2,000 ounces," or say $32,000 Now, $16,000 per day, got out at an expense of less than $50, is not very bad wages. As fabulous as this may appear, it is perfectly true. With proper machinery with present prospect and richness of the claim, they can get out $30,000 per day, and not work very hard at that. This mine is owned by five persons, all Western farmers, who perhaps never had a hundred dollars each in their lives before.

The Allison Lead, from which over $50,000 per month has been taken for the last four years, I see produced $27,000 for four days' working last week. This don't look much like the mines giving out. I think if I owned either the Ish or the Allison, I should feel considerably encouraged to scratch around and try and make a living out of it.

J. W. SIMONSON, editor of the Bulletin, has gone to Washoe, and from his letters I should say he found Jordan a hard road to travel. He went up in company with Capt. DALL and Capt. PATTERSON. Col HIRAM PIERSON, the prince of squatters, and FRANK BIXBY, went up—some said with the determination to buy up all the adverse titles, but they didn't. It is said the Colonel did not like the general appearance of the claim holders. It might have been found rather squally business to squat on any claims, those rough fellows up there being very much given to settling points of law with COLT's Code of six irresistible arguments. At any rate the Colonel came back—probably a wiser man.

Business has been dull the last month. Traders are afraid to purchase stocks of goods until they know whether they will have any customers to sell to. They fear a general stampede to Washoe, a month hence, among the miners—a second Frazer River migration.

Gov. DOWNEY has vetoed the Bulkhead bill, and thereby made his mark, and if it depended on California he would be our next President. A more popular man does not stand in shoe leather than the Governor, since this most politic step. Great influence, and the irresistible argument, in the shape of (it is said) $300,000, was offered him to sign the bill; but, being rich already, he could afford to be honest, and perhaps with an eye to future preferment he refused, and thereby did the State infinite service and himself great honor. Ten thousand dollars has been subscribed to give him a grand reception, and to show the appreciation of his course in the matter. The Atlantic Cyrus Field Cable, that didn't work, celebration, won't be a circumstance to the grand doings to come off in honor of Gov. DOWNEY. If he wants anything now is his time to say so and get it, for Republics are so ungrateful. The Governor has proved to be what Mr. LATHAM said he was—a safe man to be trusted with the interests of the State. Now, everybody (except the Bulkheaders) is pleased with LATHAM, and delighted at the termination of the whole matter. They know that as long as LATHAM was here to stand by them, the country was safe, for he had been tried and proved, but his successor was a new man, and they were dubious; but, as I before remarked, its all right now.

It has long been a point of dispute and matter of doubt what was the real value of angel woman, but the question has at last been definitely settled, and she has found her market value, in California at least, as I see by a country paper that a gentleman Indian, about leaving those gay and festive scenes for some place where grasshopper diet was more abundant, sold his effects and traded off his best squaw for a sack of flour, a jack-knife, and a pair of second-hand boots. The transaction was on the square, and the articles all of the best quality. The squaw particularly, had been a high-cost article to Mr. Indian, as he had to scalp two or three rivals, and had half a dozen arrows shot into him the first week of the honey-moon by disappointed suitors that didn't suit-her. It is to be hoped that the question of woman's value to "all the world and the rest of mankind," is at last definitely settled. PODGERS.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

THE CHEEVER QUARREL.

Continuation of the Debate—Remarks by Messrs. Blankman, Berry and Gilbert.

An adjourned meeting of the Society of Dr. CHEEVER's Church was held in the lecture-room of the Church last evening, to continue the discussion of the points of controversey between the trustees and the pastor. Rev. GEO. H. WHITE occupied the Chair. Rev. Mr. BLANKMAN being entitled to the floor, proceeded to read from manuscripts a lengthy address, evidently prepared with great care, in support of the Anti-Cheever side of the controversy. He repudiated the idea, to which the friends of Dr. CHEEVER had given currency, that the cause of the opposition to Dr. CHEEVER was that he had preached against Slavery. This, he said, was not so. The true origin of the difficulty was in the appeal of Dr. CHEEVER and his party for foreign aid to sustain the Church. He commented very severely upon the letter of Dr. CHEEVER to Mr. SPURGEON, and the egotism of the writer as therein displayed. Dr. CHEEVER had said that the cause of Zion throughout the world did not rest upon the Tract Society in Nassau-street, and yet one would suppose from the tenor of this letter that it did rest upon the Church of the Puritans and upon the preaching of Dr. CHEEVER. The course adopted by Dr. CHEEVER, and his friends tended to the establishment of a perfect despotism. On the principles laid down by them, there was nothing to hinder a pastor who should turn Roman Catholics, from transferring the whole property of the Church over to the Papish Hierarchy, while the congregation were turned out of doors.

Mr. BLANKMAN was several times interrupted by the Chairman for what were deemed too personal allusions, and several members of the opposite party insisted upon his giving way for explanations or corrections, but he finally succeeded in getting through his speech without any very spicy debate.

At the conclusion of Mr. BLANKMAN's speech there was a general scramble for the floor, which was finally decided to belong to Mr. BERRY.

Mr. BERRY contended that it was the duty of every church which found itself unable to support itself, to ask for aid, and that they had a right to obtain that aid from any source which they saw fit. At the time the mission to England was inaugurated the Church of the Puritans was in want of money; the report of the Trustees showed that there was a balance against the treasury of $3,300; there was great anxiety among the members as to what should be done in the emergency, and under the pressure of that anxiety this appeal for foreign aid was instituted. The Trustees had failed to raise the money, and they had no right to complain of members for adopting means to save the Church from bankruptcy. As to the disgrace attending this foreign appeal, he thought the disgrace, if any, attached to those who, with abundant means at their command, permitted the necessity of such an appeal. He closed by asserting that the real cause of the disaffection of the Anti-Cheever party was the Anti-Slavery preaching of the pastor, and not this appeal for foreign aid. This was the understanding of the outside world in relation to the controversy, and it was the true understanding. When the speaker went down to Wall-street he was asked why his church was continually discussing the "nigger," and whether they did not get enough "nigger" on Sunday, but had to meet to discuss the animal on week days. No one asked why they were quarreling about the British appeal, for it was well known that this was not the point at issue.

Mr. GILBERT next obtained the floor, and addressed the meeting for over an hour, upon the legality and propriety of the action of those brethren who instituted this appeal for foreign aid. He, for one, was proud that his name was attached to that appeal. The cause in which this appeal was made was a good cause. The Church of the Puritans was the only true Anti-Slavery Church in this country, and it ought to be sustained. There was no more harm or disgrace in using British gold to sustain an Anti-Slavery Church, than there was in using it for building railroads. In the course of his remarks upon the Slavery question, he said that the whole American nation were a nation of cowards, and was greeted with a storm of hisses, whereupon he brought his remarks to a close.

Mr. CHESTER then arose and said that he had listened a long time to this debating society, for he could call it nothing else, and he had a few remarks to make, but as it was now a quarter past 11, he would defer what he had to say until the next meeting and move an adjournment. The motion was carried unanimously, and the meeting adjourned to Thursday evening next.

THE CASE IN COURT.

DENIAL OF THE RIGHT OF THE INSPECTORS TO REJECT VOTES AS ILLEGAL AFTER THE RETURN HAS BEEN MADE.

Henry A. Hartt et al. vs. Charles R. Harvey et al.—This is the injunction suit involving the question who are the legally elected Trustees of Dr. CHEEVER's Church.

The facts have already been published at length in the TIMES, in our reports of the argument of the case. Briefly restated, they are as follows:

The annual meeting for the election of Trustees was held by the Church in March last. Messrs. White and Smith were appointed inspectors. At the election 64 votes were received by the inspectors for Trustees, there being three vacancies to be filled.

After the votes were all received, they were counted by the Inspectors, and 64 votes were found in the box.

After the count, the Inspectors declared the result of the election to be: That the plaintiffs had each 33 of the votes; and the defendants Harvey and Tompkins, had each 31; and one Bennett had 27 votes, and one Thomas Roody three votes.

Afterward, and on the 23d of March, the Inspectors executed a certificate, in which they certify and declare that at said election 64 votes were cast for Trustees, 33 of which appeared to be given for Hall, 33 for Whiting, and the same number for Hartt; 31 for Harvey, and the like number for Tompkins; 27 for Bennett, and three for Roody; and that they as Inspectors declared the apparent result at the time; but very soon thereafter, and before they had prepared the certificate of election, evidence of a nature entirely conclusive and satisfactory was produced before them, proving that at least six illegal votes were cast, and those six contained the names of the plaintiffs, and that these were counted as part of the 33 votes for] them as above stated. The certificate then proceeds as follows:

"We, therefore, certify that Charles R. Harvey and Charles B. Tompkins have a plurality and a majority of the legal votes cast, and are duly elected Trustees of the said Society, to serve for three years from the 31st day of March, inst.; that between the said Thomas J. Hall, William E. Whiting, Henry A. Hartt, and James D. Bennett, there was a tie vote, and neither of them is duly elected. All which is certified, &c."

This certificate was delivered to the defendants Harvey and Tompkins, who still hold it, and by virtue of it they claim to be duly elected Trustees of said Society for the term of three years.

Before the first meeting of the Board of Trustees was held subsequent to such election, the plaintiffs, claiming to be duly elected Trustees of said Society, applied for and obtained a temporary injunction order restraining the defendants Harvey and Tompkins from acting or assuming to act as Trustees of said Society.

The defendants then presented to Justice BONNEY a petition, charging upon plaintiffs and others of the Trustees misconduct at a meeting of the Trustees, held soon after said election, and that it was their intention to prevent the attendance of a quorum at the meeting of the Trustees, and thus seriously impair the interests of the Society, and praying that the plaintiffs be enjoined from acting or assuming to act as Trustees. The injunction as prayed for was granted and served.

The applications now pending, were to continue these injunctions; also, by the defendants to modify plaintiffs' injunction, so as to allow one of the defendants to act as Trustee in the event it shall be necessary to do so in order to form a quorum.

The following is so much of the elaborate opinion rendered, as relates to the main question involved, viz: whether the Inspectors had power, after the election was over, and the result had been declared, to determine anew the qualifications of any of the voters.

MULLIN, J., (after stating the facts, and reviewing the provisions of the general statute relative to religious corporations)—When a voter is challenged on the ground of the absence of some one or either of the requisite qualifications, the inspectors must inquire, ascertain and determine whether the voter possesses them. The question arises for decision when the voter offers his vote. Then the challenge is made, and the voter's right to vote must be determined before it can be received or rejected. If the vote is not challenged, there is no question for decision; the vote must be received. (In the matter of the Chenango County Mutual Insurance Company, 19 W., 635.) If he is challenged, the Judge must in some mode ascertain and determine the question of qualification. For what purpose? In order that the person challenged may vote if qualified. When the vote is received, the party has voted—his qualifications are ascertained, and the Judge has decided the question. The voter has an interest in the determination; he has a right to be heard, and in many, if not most cases, he is the only person who can speak with certainty as to his qualifications. It cannot be possible that the Legislature intended that three Inspectors should receive votes without challenge or in defiance of a challenge, and after the election is ended, enter into an examination of the qualifications of the voters, and count or reject votes as they shall then determine on the question of qualification. How are they in that stage of the business to ascertain which of the ballots to withdraw from the box and reject? Inspectors cannot be presumed to know the contents of the ballot. How, then, are they to separate the legal from the illegal—the votes of those qualified from the votes of those disqualified? The very statement of the proposition that such a power exists excites surprise and alarm. It needs no argument to show how dangerous and how corrupt such a power in the hands of any class of men, however respectable, would become.

The innocent and legal votes, under such a system, is as likely to have his vote rejected as the illegal and fraudulent one. But it cannot be necessary to discuss the proposition. The Inspectors, as judges of the qualifications of voters, must decide when the vote is offered, and the decision then made—if in favor of receiving the vote—is final. From the very necessity of the case, a decision cannot be delayed until after the vote is deposited in the box.

The act of the Inspectors in rejecting six of the plaintiffs' votes as illegal, after the same had been received and deposited in the box, was wholly unauthorized, and, so far as that question is involved in these motions, I must assume that the plaintiffs had 33 of the 64 votes cast, and have a plurality, and were, therefore, elected, unless there is some other reason shown why they were not then elected.

It is said that the certificate of the Inspectors given to the defendants Harvey and Tompkins, is at least prima facie evidence of their right to the office, and conclusive, except so far as the Courts may in an action in the nature of quo warranto try and determine the right to the office without reference to the certificate.

I have no doubt that a certificate under the hands and seals of the Inspectors that a person has been duly elected a Trustee is prima facie evidence of his right; and had the certificate given to the defendants contained nothing but the declaration that defendants are elected, I should deem myself bound to so regard it. But it recites the facts upon which they rely as their justification and authority for declaring these parties elected; and these facts most clearly show that the defendants Harvey and Tompkins were not elected. When the Inspectors admit that 64 votes only were received by them and placed in the box, and that of them plaintiffs had each 33, it is shown to be legally impossible that the defendants Harvey and Tompkins could be legally elected. The certificate destroys itself. While it declares the right, it demonstrates that no such right existed. The statute only provides that the certificate shall entitle the party elected to the office. The election lies at the foundation of the right. When there is no election, there is no right, and the certificate cannot create it. Much stress was laid on the argument upon this certificate; but so long as it is prima facie evidence only of the right, and the right exist to go behind it and inquire into the fact of the election, its importance is not very great. A certificate is not essential to enable the party elected to take his office. If Inspectors neglect or refuse to give a certificate, the party entitled will be declared in office. (The People vs. Peck, 11 Wend., 604.)

I must hold, therefore, that, upon the certificate in this case, no right is shown in the defendants to the office, and, of course, I cannot confer on them the right to a seat in the Board of Trustees, to which they have no color of right by election.

As to other questions raised, however, his Honor holds that the Code does not authorize an injunction in a case like the present; an action in the nature of quo warranto being the proper mode of trying title to an office. On this ground both motions to continue the injunctions are denied, but without costs.

THE SLOOP MURDERS.

Trial of Albert W. Hicks, alias William Johnson, indicted for Robbery on the High Seas.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—BEFORE HON. JUDGE SMALLEY.

Yesterday being appointed for the trial of this extraordinary case, the Court-room was crowded to overflowing, by citizens anxious to listen to the proceedings. In addition to the crime for which the prisoner is now on trial, another indictment is pending, for the murder of Capt. George H. Burr, of the sloop E. A. Johnson, and two of his men—Oliver Watts and Smith Watts. Should the prosecution be successful in obtaining a verdict of guilty in the robbery case, it is not the intention of the Government to place him on trial for murder. Both are capital cases, and the punishment is death.

Annexed is a brief synopsis of the indictment: The prisoner stands charged with having, on the 21st day of March, 1860, on the high seas, and within the Admiralty maritime jurisdiction of the United States, and the jurisdiction of this Court, on board the American vessel Edwin A. Johnson, owned by citizens of the United States, piratically, fraudulently and violently committed an assault upon George H. Burr, commander of said vessel, and did seize and carry away the goods, effects and personal property of the said George H. Burr, namely: gold coin of the value of $30, several pieces of silver coin amounting to $150, a watch valued at $20, one watch-guard valued at six cents, and some wearing apparel &c., amounting to about the value of $4.

Messrs. Hunt and Dwight, Assistant District-Attorneys, conducted the prosecution. The prisoner was defended by Messrs. Graves and Sayles.

The prisoner, in custody of the United States Deputy-Marshals, was brought into Court, followed by a large crowd. He occupied a seat beside his counsel. He was better dressed than on previous occasions, and manifested but little interest in the proceedings.

The following jurors were sworn, and took their seats:

1. Bernard McElroy,
2. Owen Foley,
3. John Coulter,
4. George W. Jackson,
5. James C. Rhodes,
6. Isaac Jerome.
7. Andrew Brady,
8. Robert W. Allen,
9. John Farrell,
10. James M. Fuller,
11. John McCalvey,
12. Benjamin Sherman.

Mr. Dwight, Assistant District-Attorney, then opened the case for the prosecution in a speech of great length, in which he clearly set before the jury all the facts of the case, bearing against the defendant, which are already familiar to the public, the interval between the tragedy of the E. A. Johnson and this present trial being but of short duration. Mr. Dwight traced the prisoner, step by step, from the time of his landing on Staten Island in the boat belonging to the sloop, to his capture in Rhode Island and return to this City. The whole seemed to form a chain of evidence leading strongly to the presumption of the prisoner's guilt, but we must await the verdict of the jury, in order to learn if the evidence produced is sufficiently strong to convince them that he is guilty. After the learned gentleman had concluded, he proceeded to call his witnesses, the first of whom was Celeh Howell: I own one-half of the sloop Johnson, and Capt. Burr did the other; I know the prisoner at the bar, and saw him the night before her leaving here; she left on Thursday morning; she was lying at that time on the north side of Spring-street dock; she had been there about ten days; she was bound to Virginia for a load of oysters; I was on board on Wednesday; the crew consisted of four men and the Captain; Captain was 38 years old; Smith Watts was about 19, and Oliver Watts about 24; the color of the Captain's hair was dark; Oliver Watts' was very light, and Smith Oliver's was a dark brown; I know Capt. Burr's hand-writing; I saw the Johnson after she was brought here and also the yawl boat; I don't know the name of the officer who brought it in; I found at the Harbor Police Station at the Battery the yawl boat of the Johnson, which she had when she left here; after the sloop had been lying here some time I took her to Islip, and I took various articles from her—a black canvas valise and clothes; I brought them here, but don't know to whom they belonged. [Witness identified valise produced.] It was lying on the locker in the cabin. [Witness examined valise, and stated that the knife was in it when he found it, and buckled up.] I saw defendant on the night before the ship sailed, and the next time when he was brought up before the Commissioner.

Cross-examined—I had never seen the prisoner before I saw him on that vessel; I had no conversation with him; I had never spoken to him; Oliver Watts was a man weighing one hundred and eighty or one hundred and ninety pounds, Smith Watts about one hundred and seventy pounds; the Captain weighed one hundred and twenty-five or one hundred and thirty; the two Watts boys were on the sloop when I was there on Wednesday evening.

Re-direct—I have seen Capt Burr write; have had business transactions with him for the last nine years; when I saw the defendant on the sloop, he had a blue cotton overshirt on and overalls; I supped with prisoner and Capt. Burr; I identify Capt. Burr's writing on the document shown to me marked A.

John A. Boyle, examined by Mr. Dwight: I am Enrollment and License Clerk in the Custom-house; the Edwin A. Johnson was enrolled on 3d December. 1858, as an American vessel, owned entirely by American citizens.

Daniel Simmonds, examined: I reside at Keyport, N. J., and know the sloop E. A. Johnson; we chartered her from this port to Virginia; the last time we chartered her, she was to sail on the 15th March; I have sailed with Capt. Burr; had business transactions with him before she left; I settled with him for his charter, and gave him $200 to buy the oysters he was going after; the money was in quarter and half-dollars, ten and five cent pieces. (Objected to, as the indictment is insufficient to warrant the evidence. Objection overruled, and exception taken.) I paid him the balance of the charter money in gold—two tens, two fives, two and-a-half, and a single dollar; it made up $35; all the money was together in one bag; the bag was a shot-bag, the property of Capt. Burr, and I had it in my safe some days before; he used to keep his money in his valise and berth; there was a secret drawer on board, but don't know whether the captain kept his money there or not; I have seen the bag since it was taken from the prisoner's pocket at the Station-house; there was nothing in the bag when I first saw it; I identify this bag now handed me as the one I have referred to, in which the money was placed when I gave it to the captain; and it is the same that was taken from the pocket of the prisoner at the Station-house; I saw the prisoner at the Station-house after he was brought from Providence; Capt. Reed asked him if he had seen me before, and he said he had not; I asked him if I had not seen him on Spring-street dock; he said "No," that he did not know the Johnson, and had never been on board of her; he denied all acquaintance with Capt. Burr; when prisoner was on board the sloop his whiskers were red and full, but when I saw him afterwards they appeared to be darker and thinner.

[The witness's testimony was unshaken on cross-examination.]

David S. Baldwin lives at Islip, and knew the prisoner, who said he was going in the Johnson to Virginia; he handed the valise now produced to me from the dock, and I put it on the deck; this was when he first came on board; I identify the knife in the valise as the property of the prisoner.

James H. Baker examined: Is in the oyster business, and know prisoner; saw him on board the Johnson on 18th March.

Cross-examined—Had no previous acquaintance with Johnson, the prisoner.

Reuben Keymer sworn: Knew the E. A. Johnson, being at Keyport in March last; she came on Sunday, and left on Tuesday night [Witness identified coat as worn by the prisoner.] Saw the prisoner in the boat that brought young Watts on board.

Cross-examined—I can identify the prisoner as the same person I saw in the boat belonging to the sloop E. A. Johnson.

Charles Baker examined: Saw the sloop when it laid at Gravesend Bay in March; I saw Capt. Burr there come ashore; I knew Smith and Oliver Watts, and have seen them at Gravesend; I saw Johnson come with the boat and take one of the young Watts on board.

John S. Whitworth sworn: I live on Gravesend beach; I have seen the prisoner there before, either on the 19th or 20th of March last; he came ashore in the yawl-boat, and I did not see him until he came ashore; I saw him the following day, when he came again in the yawl-boat; on the Monday he had no coat on, but some kind of a blue shirt; on Tuesday he had on a monkey jacket.

Cross-examined—I live about quarter of a mile from the beach; I am certain the prisoner is the man whom I saw.

The Court adjourned till to-day, at 10 o'clock A. M.

OFFICIAL PECULATION.

Alleged Defalcation in the New-York Post-Office—A Warrant Issued for the Arrest of Isaac V. Fowler—His Whereabouts not Known.

For some days past there have been vague rumors in circulation that a heavy defalcation had been discovered in one of the United States Departments in this City. Yesterday those rumors assumed a definite shape in the announcement that ISAAC V. FOWLER, the well-known and popular politician and gentleman, who has held the office of Postmaster of this City for seven years past, was the guilty party, and that warrants had been issued for his arrest. The announcemnt caused great excitement in political and social circles, and was the general theme of conversation throughout the City. It seems that, on Saturday last, Mr. ORFUTT arrived here from Washington with instructions to take immediate possession, and assume the entire control of the Post-office in this City, which he proceeded to do. Close upon his heels came Mr. JUNIUS HILLYER, the Solicitor of the Treasury, who arrived at 6 o'clock on Saturday evening, having previously telegraphed to the U. S. District-Attorney in this City, and the U. S. Marshal to meet him at the office of the latter. An interview of these functionaries was immediately had, at which a warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Capt. RYNDERS for the arrest of Mr. FOWLER on a charge of embezzling the funds of the Post-office Department to the amount of $155,554. The Marshal, with his assistants, immediately sallied forth in quest of the defaulter, and have kept up a diligent search for him ever since, but as yet without success.

Mr. FOWLER left the New-York Hotel, where he has resided for the last ten years, at 2 o'clock on Sunday morning, since which time no one, except the two or three intimate friends who accompanied him, has been able to ascertain his whereabouts. It is said that he is completely overwhelmed at the prospect of exposure, and fears are entertained that he may do violence to himself unless closely watched by his friends.

The evidence of the large deficit is said to have very recently come to the knowledge of the Government at Washington.

The causes of the defalcation are said to have arisen from the too great liberality of Mr. FOWLER to his friends, to whom he made temporary loans of the Government money for the purpose of extricating them from difficulty, and which they failed to repay. It is also stated that he has resorted at various times to the Stock Exchange for the purpose of making up the deficit, but always with ill luck.

The present bondsmen of Mr. FOWLER are GEO. LAW and AUGUSTUS CONOVER, but as the original defalcation occurred under a former Administration, before they became his bondsmen, it is contended that they are not liable.

WILSON G. HUNT and JOHN A. DIX are spoken of as likely to succeed Mr. FOWLER as Post-master of this city.

From inquiries made at a late hour last evening, at the residence of Marshal RYNDERS, our reporter ascertained that Mr. FOWLER had not yet been arrested. Indeed, he was subsequently informed by an earnest personal and political friend of the Ex-Postmaster that it was the firm determination of his friends to prevent his apprehension, and that he was already in a place of security at least 300 miles from the City. The same gentleman also stated that the whole amount of the deficit, $125,000, would be raised within three days by the political and personal friends of Mr. FOWLER, one of whom had volunteered to furnish $50,000 in cash for the object by noon of Wednesday, and that a compromise with the Government would be effected.

TRAGEDY IN THE CITY PRISON.

Suicide of Robert C. Macdonald, the Murderer of Virginia Stewart.

At 11 o'clock yesterday morning, one of the keepers of the City Prison, on visiting the cell of ROBERT C. MACDONALD, the young Southerner, who was in confinement awaiting trial for the murder of VIRGINIA STEWART, his paramour, on the 4th of last August, found the unhappy man lying upon his cot, in an insensible condition, and laboring apparently under the effect of a powerful narcotic. Dr. SIMMONDS, the assistant-physician of the Prison, was instantly summoned, and, having examined the patient, was at first of opinion that his condition had been produced by the inhalation of chloroform, but a search resulted in the discovery of an empty half-ounce bottle, labeled "McMunn's Elixir"—a very strong preparation of opium—on the floor of the cell, showing at once the agency that had been employed in the commission of the suicide. In the meantime, Dr. COVEL, the Prison physician, who was absent at the bedside of his dying brother in Thirty-fifth-street when the discovery was made, had been sent for, and having arrived, vigorous measures were adopted for the purpose of restoring the cold and almost lifeless body of the patient to animation and consciousness. Hot drafts were placed upon the extremeties, stimulants were administered, recourse was had to the stomach-pump, violent flagellation was resorted to, and every exertion made and persevered in, without any advantage having been derived by the treatment; and, in fact, but one sign of a return to consciousness was exhibited, when, upon the application of the stomach-pump, he languidly expressed his dissatisfaction at the good offices of his attendants. The patient becoming gradually worse, the aid of the medical staff of the City Hospital was solicited and promptly given, but from the first it had been apparent that the poison had had ample time in which to work its fatal mission before the discovery of the sufferer, and his death resulted at 5 o'clock.

The person from whom MACDONALD procured the opiate is not suspected. Almost from the very commencent of his imprisonment it has been surmised that he would probably attempt to end his existence, and more than ordinary watchfulness has been adopted with regard to him. In spite of the vigilance of the keepers, he has, however, on two occasions possessed himself of a knife—the last instance having occurred about a month ago, when a common table-knife, which had been ground to a point, and received a keen edge, was taken from his cell. Since the passage of the recent act, abolishing the death penalty, except in cases of clearly premeditated murder, the deceased had often threatened to terminate his life in preference to lingering a term of years in the State Prison, which he had made up his mind would be the result of his trial, and not long ago he asked a gentleman who visited him to obtain a dose of strychnine for him. It is also said that he advised WM. LANE, Jr., the Fulton Bank defaulter, to commit self-destruction rather than submit to incarceration at Sing Sing.

Recently the cells on the corridor appropriated to criminals convicted of capital offences have been provided, at the instigation of Mr. SUTTON, with screens before the doors, made of thick wire, so arranged as to effectually prevent the passage of anything to the occupant. This contrivance was the result of the plot made by STEPHENS and SANCHEZ to murder the keepers and escape, two days before the former was executed, and after this occurrence it will probably be attached to the doors of all the cells.

MACDONALD was a member of one of the most respected families in Alabama. It will be remembered that he came to this City in search of his victim, VIRGINIA STEWART, a few weeks before the commission of the murder. Having accidentally met her in company with two of her female friends in Taylor's Saloon, he joined the party, treated them to wine, and endeavored to effect a reconciliation of the differences which had caused their separation in Mobile. The girl STEWART, however, would not listen to him, and left the saloon with her friends. MACDONALD followed them to the street, and the girls, perceiving that he was pursuing them, walked as fast as they could to get out of his way. On reaching the corner of Canal-street and Broadway, he drew a pistol, when one of the girls called to VIRGINIA STEWART, "He is going to shoot you." She ran a few paces, and attempted to enter the private entrance of the Brandreth House, when he followed her and shot her upon the steps. This occurred in broad daylight, and his arrest was immediately effected. Miss STEWART was removed to the City Hospital, where after lingering eleven days, her death resulted. MACDONALD was not more than 20 years of age. Coroner JACKMAN will hold an inquest upon the body this morning.

A TESTIMONIAL TO THE WORLD'S CHAMPION.—A meeting in relation to the Heenan Testimonial was held last night in Goldbeck's Hall. The lessee of the building, an Englishman, perpetrated an outrage upon the Eagle by shutting off the gas prior to the commencement of the meeting, but by the aid of a few candles an extempore illumination was effected. The comments upon the Englishman's conduct were vastly more expressive than elegant, and several gentlemen expressed a desire of meeting that individual on a corner remote from policemen. The meeting was called to order by Capt. JAMES TURNER, and reports were received from the few members of the Finance Committee present. Mr. IRVING reported a collection of $600, a letter inclosing a check for $100 from MICHAEL PHELAN was read, and three gentlemen in the room handed in their names with subscriptions of $50 each. The Chairman made a brief speech, in which he alluded to the moral integrity and physical powers of Mr. HEENAN, and expressed a hope that Mr. HEENAN's admiring countrymen would not be backward in manifesting an appreciating value for Mr. HEENAN's manly exploits in upholding the honor of Columbia. He also stated that, though full reports from the Financial Committee had not been received, their chairman had informed him that since the meeting of Friday night $3,000 had been subscribed, and that he was satisfied it would reach $10,000. Mr. CAMPBELL reported a subscription of between $400 and $500; Mr. HILL reported that his efforts had secured between $500 and $600. Mention was then made of a movement being on foot to present SAYERS with some testimonial in honor of his gallantry. This announcement met with no applause. Discussion arising in relation to the next place of meeting, the agent of the hall arose and offered its use gratuitously. This offer was promptly accepted, and it was intimated that if the Englishman again cut off the gas, there would be a cutting off soon after of his supply of breath. After some unimportant discussion, the meeting then adjourned until Monday night week.

ANTI-COLONIZATION MEETING.—A numerous and respectable body of the colored people assembled last evening at the Bethesda Church, in Sullivan-street, to express their opposition to the Colonization movement, as embodied in the African Civilization Society. Mr. R. F. WAKE presided, and Rev. Mr. PENNINGTON opened the proceedings with prayer. Mr. DOWNING read several resolutions, which set forth that there was no objection to the civilization of Africa, or to the emigration thither of individuals who sought to better their condition by engaging in commercial enterprise, but condemning any general exodus of the colored people as impolitic and dangerous; threatening with the indignation of the colored people those who gave aid and comfort to the enterprise; declaring the African Civilization Society and the American Colonization Society as one in spirit, origin and design, and calculated alike to disparage the colored people. WILLIAM WELLS BROWN, of Massachusetts, seconded the resolutions in a speech of half an hour, in which he admitted the right of the colored population to go wheresoever they pleased in business enterprises, and accorded sincerity of motives to the leaders of the new movement, but thought they were deceived, and misleading the colored people. They were also disparaging the great Anti-Slavery movement of the age. He ridiculed the declaration of the agents that the movement would abolish Slavery. WILLIAM J. WALKINS followed in a lengthy and animated speech in the same vein; a collection was taken up, and Prof. CHAS. L. REASON made the closing speech, in which he denied that questions of complexion had anything to do with the divisions on this subject. Rev. Mr. GARNET gave notice of a meeting at Shiloh Church this evening, at which the other side would be heard. Mr. GARNET's announcement was hailed by loud applause from the audience

CANDIDATES FOR THE BAR.—The semi-annual examination of candidates for admission to the Bar was commenced last Wednesday and completed yesterday, at the General Term of the Supreme Court. The examiners appointed were Messrs. BRADY, BURRILL and CAMPBELL. The applicants, seventy-five in number, were divided into two classes, the first of which was examined last week, and the other yesterday. The answers given indicated the ordinary amount of intelligence and stupidity exhibited on similar occasions. If the subdued and hardly audible utterance of the young men may be taken as any indication of the future habits that are to characterize this new crop of lawyers, we shall before long see the bar transformed to a much more quiet arena than it is at present. Or, if it was the result of a want of confidence in their own abilities and information, we congratulate the profession on the accesion to its ranks of a much less brazen element than occasionally glitters in it. A large crowd of spectators attended, among whom it was easy to detect anxious paternal features lighted up with interest in the success of sons who are to be the future jurists of the country. The examining Committee will report to the Court this morning, when the nervous excitement of anxious ones will be allayed; some by the information of their success, and a few, it is to be feared, by the discouraging intelligence that they must thumb the Code a short time longer, and present themselves at a future trial.

ALDERMANIC AFFRAY—AN OFFICIAL NOSE PULLED.—Mr. RUSSELL, the present Alderman, and WM. WILSON, Ex-Alderman, of the First Ward, were parties to a fracas in the City Hall Park yesterday, which attracted quite a crowd. It appears that from having been old friends, these gentlemen are now bitter enemies, and the Alderman, it is asserted, had gone so far as to say publicly that he had pulled the Ex-Alderman's nose. This was more than flesh and blood could stand, especially when flesh and flood strikes from the shoulder; and the parties meeting yesterday in the Hall, WILSON demanded to know if the Alderman had made such an assertion. The Alderman did not make any direct reply, and a long war of words ensued, during which the belligerents, followed by a motley crowd, reached the centre of the Park, when, as the Alderman still hesitated to avow or deny the soft impeachment, Mr. WILSON reached his nose and gave it a twisting severe enough to justify an action for assault, for it brought blood. Having thus satisfied his honor, WILSON went one way, and the Alderman, followed by sympathizing friends, pursued another.

HOUSE-PAINTERS' PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION.—This Association, which has been in existence about a year, held a special meeting last evening, for the purpose of hearing "the outspoken sentiments of the trade," and for cementing the bonds of union among its members. Mr. P. KEADY, the President, occupied the Chair, and A. T. FISHER, Esq., officiated as Secretary. The attendance was considerable, considering the inclemency of the weather. One of the members, Mr. ANDREWS, read a paper, advocating concerted and persevering action. He did not see why competent men—men able to earn and able to demand $2 per day—should not receive the same in the Fall of the year as well as in the Spring. His advice to the Society as to individual action and general coöperation was, although clothed in homely phrase, sound, wise, and comprehensive. A great portion of the evening was taken up by the collection of "back dues" from delinquent members. There seems to be some difficulty among the members as to the settlement of the amount of dues, or rather the proportion of the regular dues incumbent upon members earning wages less than $2 per day. The meeting last evening was spirited in tone, and evidently encouraging to the Association.

SEVENTH REGIMENT.—The officers and non-commissioned officers of the Seventh Regiment (excepting the troop) are ordered to assemble in full fatigue dress, knapsacks, one day's rations, with side arms only, at Lafayette Hall, on Thursday, the 17th inst., at 9 o'clock P. M. The Field and Staff will report to the Colonel, at his quarters, at 8¾ o'clock. Brevet-Col. SHUMWAY, commanding Company H, having reported at these head quarters for duty, the Adjutant will reassign the companies their posts in line. Lieut.-Col. CRAWFORD is directed to hold a Regimental Court-martial, for the trial of delinquents,—for the Troop and Companies A, B, C, and D, on Thursday, 24th inst., and Companies E, F, G, H, and K, on Friday, 25th inst., at Lafayette Hall, at 8 o'clock P. M. He will cause a list of the delinquents of each Company to be posted in their respective armories. N. B. McLAUGHLIN has been appointed Lieutenant of the Troop, vice E. GENIN, resigned. JOHN H. DRAPER has been appointed Ordnance Sergeant, and JAMES J. MUNSON Left General Guide.

CENTRAL AMERICAN EDUCATION SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of this Society was held at the Bible House on Thursday last, at 4 o'clock P. M., WM. W. CHESTER, one of the Vice-Presidents, in the Chair. The officers elected for the ensuing year are: Rev. J. J. Owen, D. D., President; Rev. T. A. Mills, Secretary, and Wm. A. Booth, Treasurer, with twelve Vice-Presidents and twenty-four Directors, among whom are Rev. Drs. Skinner, Robinson, Adams, Parker, Wood and McLane, and Messrs. James Boorman, W. W. Chester, C. O. Halsted, C. R. Robert, Fisher Howe, W. S. Griffith, Charles Butler, J. W. Benedict, &c. After completing its business, the Society adjourned till the next annual meeting.

ACCIDENT AT THE APPLETON BUILDING.—Yesterday morning a horse attached to a dirt-cart was backed down Republican alley, adjoining the old Appleton Building, and becoming unruly went so far that the cart was dragged down the excavation which the builder is making for the construction of vaults. The driver, seeing the cart going down, jumped from the vehicle, but the cart went over, dragging the horse over with it, and which was instantly killed. Of course a large crowd instantly collected, and it required the aid of the police to make room enough to enable the workmen to remove the shattered cart and dead horse.

ANTICIPATED VISIT OF THE PRINCE OF WALES.—The Mayor yesterday addressed a brief letter to Hon. GEORGE M. DALLAS, United States Minister at the Court of St. James, transmitting the resolutions passed by the Common Council, inviting the Prince of Wales, on the occasion of his contemplated visit to Canada, to extend his journey to this City. They were duly authenticated by the Mayoralty seal, and will of course reach the Prince through the "Circumlocution office."

RECOVERY OF YOUNG STILLWELL'S BODY.—It will be remembered that on the 17th ult. a son of Ex-Marshal STILLWELL was lost from a boat in East River, near Zerega's Point. His parents have hoped that he might have been rescued by a sloop which was in the vicinity, but the fears which have continually suggested themselves were sadly verified by the discovery on Sunday of the body of young STILLWELL lying in the water near the beach, and almost entirely covered by sea-weed. When first taken from the water it was perfectly unchanged in appearance, but soon after exposure to the air began to decompose rapidly.

MERCANTILE LIBRARY ELECTION.—The divisions which have marred the harmony of this Association heretofore, are reported to be healed—the nominations made by the Committee having been unanimously ratified, and the Union ticket is the only one which will be put forward. The election takes place to-day.

CLINTON HALL ASSOCIATION.—The annual election of Trustees of this Institution was held yesterday, resulted in the reëlection of the old incumbents without opposition.

A KENTUCKIAN IN LUCK.—Some persons frequently doubt that large prizes are ever drawn in lotteries; but the following certificate, with name and residence, is too plain to be doubted, even by the most sceptical:

BRADFORDSVILLE, MARION CO., Ky., April 20, 1860.

This certifies that I have this day received from the agent the full amount in gold of the highest capital prize of $24,000, drawn at Wilmington, Del., in WOOD, EDDY & CO.'s "Delaware State Lotteries," Class No. 118, on the 9th of March, 1860, and that full permission is hereby given by me to publish my name and residence. JOHN AVRITT.

GAYETTY'S MEDICATED PAPER.—GAYETTY'S Medicated Paper for the Water Closet is more of a necessity, at this season of the year, than the thousand and one Spring medicines which so many people greedily swallow. Apart from its excellence as a cure and preventive of piles, it is unequaled as an article of comfort. New Dépôt, No. 2 Beekman-street, New-York.
